| Children's Issues | FAMILY LIFE – Explaining Easter to Kids. How do you communicate the sobering reality of Good Friday being the commemoration of Jesus' crucifixion and that leading to the celebration of his resurrection on Easter Sunday with little children? Sally Lloyd-James and Phil Vischer give examples of how and why we should tell the whole Easter story to our children. | 3/31/2018 5:30pm 30:00 |
| Education & History | BREAKPOINT – Sealing Biblical History: Archaeology and The Old Testament. Recent digging in the Holy Land has unearthed another confirmation of biblical history. Since the nineteenth century, historians believed there was little actual history in the bible. Figures such as David and Solomon were, at best, minor chieftains, if they existed at all. Then, in 1994, an inscribed stone was found in Northern Israel. Dating from the ninth century before Christ, it refers to the "House of David." Now Historians are having to admit that David was real AND had founded a dynasty. So, what else might be real? A lot! Such as evidence of the extent of Solomon's reign, seals belonging to King Hezekiah, a latrine built to desecrate a pagan shrine, and even possible evidence of Naboth's vineyard. | 1/8/2018 6:45am 3:00 |

| | Resisting the Western Culture of Death. Culturally, most African communities believe, by tradition, by their cultural standards, that abortion is a direct attack on human life. So for anybody to be able to convince any woman in Africa that abortion can be a good thing, you first of all have to tell her that what her parents, family and ancestors taught her is wrong. They love and celebrate their children, they despise abortion. They want their authentic needs met, such as the safe delivery of their babies. They want their values respected—especially their belief that motherhood is a blessing, not a burden, even within a poor family. | 6:45am 3:00 |

CREATION MOMENTS – Product Placement in the Garden. Flowers are “billboards” for their host plant. They are adorned in beautiful colors in order to attract “pollinators” which moves pollen from one flower to another, usually an insect. There is no evolutionary mechanism for the brightness of flowers. Instead, this is a clear design feature, illustrating the greatness of our Creator. “
