

ISSUES-PROGRAMS LIST October-December, 2015

10-12 Softening oil economy may mean state budget allotments (Thompson) 1:55
7:30AM, various other times

10-15 First responders gather for Strong and Safe Communities Summit (McDonald) 1;26, 6:30AM, various other times.

10-19 Oil well blowout raises questions on how the state deals with oil spills (Guerin -- not an Inside Energy report) 1:29, 7:05AM, various other times.

11-1 College affordability discussed at MSUM forum (Webster) 1:5, 4:30PM, various other times

11-4 Bismarck's U-Mary offers cyber security training (Thompson) 2:54, noon, various other times.

12-8 Budget problems at Job Service North Dakota could mean delays in unemployment assistance (Thompson) 1:36, 6:05AM, various other times.

12-14 Workshops launched on the subject of human trafficking (McDonald) 2:52, 5:30PM, various other times.

Wednesday, October 14 – North Dakota has received one of ten grants from the US Justice Department to combat human trafficking. Here to discuss the effort is Janelle Moos of the North Dakota Council on Abused Women's Services, and Wayne Stenehjem, ND Attorney General. 18 min, 3:06 pm.

Wednesday, October 21 – Erica Davidson, sexual assault program coordinator with the North Dakota Council on Abused Women Services joins us to talk about a new personal security and bystander intervention app. 14 min, 3:06 pm.

Tuesday, November 3 – "Native American Stories of Resilience" are narratives from Native Americans who live in the Bismarck-Mandan metropolitan area. Bill Thomas and Ashley Thornberg served as editors on this new series which provides intriguing glimpses into Native American culture, philosophy, and psychology. 18 min, 3:06 pm.

Monday, November 9 – Dr. Faith Wambura Ngunjiri, director of the Lorentzsen Center for Faith and Work at Concordia College shares an essay titled: "Becoming American." We'll also visit further with Dr. Ngunjiri about the New American experience. 16 min, 3:33 pm.

Wednesday, November 11 – On this Veterans' Day, we visit with Chuck Newhall, who has written about his journey overcoming PTSD in his book "Fearful Odds." 17 min, 3:06 pm.

Thursday, December 10 – We visit with J. Drake Hamilton, science policy director for Fresh Energy, a St. Paul based non-profit; and Patrick Hamilton, director of the Global Change Initiative for the Science Museum of Minnesota. They report from Paris where they're observing the climate talks. 17:45, 3:06 p.m.