The legislative session will be ending soon and that means it's time to talk about the budget. Representative Avery Bourne says that is starting to happen because of something called Appropriation Working Groups where representatives on both sides of the isle in Springfield come together talk about it. She just hopes it will be done in a partisan way.

BOURNE1 KEY: :55

Outside of both sides of the isle being involved, Representative Bourne wants to focus on transparency and balance in the budget.

BOURNE2 KEY: :59

When budget talks come around, the term ‘balanced budget’ will be used quite a bit. Representative Bourne explains what that means.

BOURNE3 KEY: :43

A potentially big elephant in the budget room is the voting down of Governor JB Pritzker's proposed tax plan. Representative Bourne says that hopefully will have sent a message.

New guidelines for the State to reopen completely are set to go into effect on June 11th. This comes on the heels of weeks of steady declines in cases and over 67% of all adults having received at least their first COVID-19 vaccine. The test positivity rate in Illinois has been less than 2 percent. Key hospital metrics have declined since early May.

People who are fully vaccinated in Illinois can resume activities without wearing a mask except where required by law. The state will continue to recommend masking for those who are unvaccinated and for those who are traveling on public transportation, congregate settings, health care settings, and those who are in school, day care, and educational institutions. Businesses themselves can implement mitigations as they see fit.

Also under this new phase 5, all sectors of the economy can resume at regular capacity meaning the return of traditional conventions, festivals, and large events without restrictions on numbers. Large gatherings can resume and mandatory social distancing at seated venues have been lifted. Guidance for schools is updated to align with CDC guidelines including lifting the requirement for people to mask outdoors.

Under the new budget, $1.5 billion has been set aside to support business grants, tourism recovery, workforce recovery, affordable housing, violence prevention, capital projects, and other investments throughout the state.

The Illinois Department of Transportation announced on Monday that $7 million in local infrastructure funding will be distributed locally as part of the Rebuild Illinois program. State Senator Doris Turner announced on Wednesday morning that Montgomery and Macoupin Counties will receive a portion of those funds. Turner recognized that truck drivers have much to consider and creating a designated truck route in these communities would help manage traffic and provide safer driving experiences for everyone.

The grant was made possible through the IDOT Truck Access Route Program which allows counties municipalities and townships to receive assistance for upgrading roads to accommodate trucks. Both Litchfield and Carlinville will receive funding with Old Route 66 located at Illinois 16 County Road 170 E receiving $76,500 and Shipman Road located at Illinois 108 Loveless Parkway receiving $94,000.

Senator Turner also praised the funding as boosting jobs and providing resources to local communities to continue to grow and keep the roads safe for everyone.

CTI will be taking part in a program that will help low-income houses. The FCC's Emergency Broadband Benefit program provides support for broadband services to help low income households stay connected during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Emergency Broadband Connectivity Fund of $3.2 billion dollars was set up on December 27th, 2020 in an effort to help Americans afford internet service during the pandemic. It will conclude when either the fund's run out or at the end of the public health emergency. This will help those who are stuck at home due to unemployment or other financial hardships. It also provides $50 per month towards an individual's bill so if someone qualifies they can get quite the benefit. You don't have to be a new member, existing members qualify as well.

To find out more about the EBB program, CTI will be hosting a free consumer focused webinar hosted by the FCC on Tuesday, April 27th at 2 PM. Cholesterol in your blood comes from two sources: the food you eat and the liver. There is good cholesterol and bad cholesterol and the bad cholesterol is made up of what are called low density lipoproteins. Khan says that bad cholesterol can lead to heart attacks.

Among the risk factors that can lead to high cholesterol is obesity, poor diet, smoking, lack of exercise, diabetes, and age. The best way to treat high cholesterol is by changing risk factors and incorporating more exercise. Dr. Khan says to eat more fruits and vegetables and less red meat and processed foods.

The Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH) along with the Illinois Department of Financial and Professional Regulation (IDFPR) and the Illinois Emergency Management Agency (IEMA) are working with the Illinois Department of Healthcare and Family Services (HFS) to wish a thank you to Nurses in recognition of the start of National Nurses Week. There are currently more than 230,000 nurses who hold Illinois Licenses.

Nurses have been fighting at the front lines of COVID-19 and have worked tirelessly throughout the pandemic and Dr. Ngozi Ezike, Director of the IDPH says that the pandemic would have been very different without the hard work put forth by nurses all over the state. Illinois has taken proactive steps to increase the number of health care professionals in the workforce. In March IDFPR issued a variance allowing Illinois nurses whose licenses were inactive or expired to meet a set of criteria to restore their licenses temporarily during the pandemic.

IDFPR also allowed out of state nurses to provide care to Illinois residents affected by the pandemic and almost 9,500 additional nurses are now allowed to provide care in Illinois. National Nurses Week was first observed in 1954 and the week continues in 2021 with celebrating our nurses. You can help nurses in the battle against COVID by taking preventative steps like washing your hands and staying home when you're sick, following state guidance regarding COVID-19 including face coverings, and schedule and receive your vaccine.
