KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 6th, 2019

6:30am to 7am

4:38 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Portland neighborhood residents from Brentwood Darlington. KXL's Rosemary Reynolds heads out to the streets and talks with Stephanie and Chelse – two women who live in Portland and say the potholes are killing their cars and even sometimes getting cars stuck. The City of Portland is spending up to $1.5 million dollars to fix potholes around the city.

ISSUE: DMV / NEW LAW

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 6th, 2019

6:30am to 7am

4:52 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: David House / Oregon DMV. KXL's Jim Ferretti talks with David as the DMV rolls out a test market in Salem. They're rolling out new licenses that are blue with a picture of Mt Hood on the back and the state capital on the front. He says they're not just changing the appearance of the licenses, they're adding safety features. And they're updating their tag renewal system at the same time.

ISSUE: LAWS/ OLCC

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 6th, 2019

6:30am to 7am

3:22 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Kevin Sali / KXL Legal Expert. KXL's Rebecca Marshall talks with Kevin about a unique case. Owners of the Barrel Room Restaurant claim a former bartender Gunner Jorstad was drinking on the job which resulted in a penalty from the OLCC. They shut down the restaurant for three weeks. Kevin says suing an individual is pretty unusual. They're suing for $115K which he says is going to be tough to ever recover.

4:35 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: KXL's Dane Vawter hears from Pat about how they are following the orders of the Clark County Health Department and requiring students to provide documentation that they have been immunized against measles or have some other type of paperwork. If children don't – they will not be allowed back at school for 21 days. The two schools are Eisenhower Elementary and the Vancouver Home Connection Leiser campus. Nuzzo says they do not want kids to miss 3 weeks of school but have to follow orders and protect all the students against measles.

ISSUE: TSA SHUTDOWN / TRAVEL

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 13th, 2019

6:30am to 7am

6:28 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Anthony Jones / Transportation Security Officer TSA Port of Portland. KXL's Mike Turner talks with Anthony who is currently on furlough thanks to the partial government shutdown. He says he is continuing to work without pay but understands he will be getting back pay down the road. He says TSA workers have a job to do and have to put the shutdown out of their minds in order to do their job and keep the public safe. He wants people to know that everyone is still safe at the PDX International Airport.

ISSUE: FOOD BOXES / HUNGER

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 13th, 2019

6:30am to 7am

5:12 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Kyle Camberg / Executive Director Portland's Sunshine Division. KXL's Mike Turner is out at the Sunshine Division as they pack up over 100 food boxes for workers who are not getting paid during the shutdown. Kyle calls it a no-brainer to step in and help people who are officially not receiving paychecks. They are handing out food boxes while also preparing to do more next week if the shutdown continues.

ISSUE: NEW BUSINESS

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 13th, 2019

6:30am to 7am

6:50 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Chris Ettinger / Founder Hopworks Urban Brewery. KXL's Mike Turner is at PDX for a ribbon cutting for the new pub. Chris says the government shutdown made it difficult to get the new place open. He says he depends on government agencies for a number of things including when they create new seasonal flavors. Chris calls the PDX Hopworks pub a dream come true.

ISSUE: SCHOOL / GRADUATION RATES

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 20th, 2019

6:30am to 7am

5:41 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Guadalupe Guerrero / Superintendent of Portland Public Schools, Julie Esparza Brown / PPS Vice Chair. KXL Microphones are rolling as we hear about how graduation rates are up 2% from 2018 compared to 2017. It's a modest gain, but a step in the right direction according to Guerrero. He says they also managed a solid gain in the number of African-American 4-year graduation rates. He admits there is much work to be done but calls this a step in the right direction.

ISSUE: CRIME / DEATH

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

2:33 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Grae Drake / Rotten Tomatoes movie critic. Grae talks with KXL's Rebecca Marshall about a couple of movies including The Kid Who Would be King – she says it's not a bad film, but not the next Sandlot. She reviews a couple of other new movies including Serenity.

ISSUE: HEALTH / RECOVERY

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 20th, 2019

6:30am to 7am

8:53 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Jessica Jarrett Miller / CEO Ronald McDonald House, Walter & Allison – Salem parents of a sick child. KXL's Rosemary Reynolds sits down first with Jessica from the new state of the art facility opening this week in Portland. They take in families of very sick children and give them care and a place to stay free of charge while their child recovers. This makes it possible for parents to not have to commute and be able to stay around their child. Rosemary then talks with Walter and Allison who have an 11-year-old son at Ronald McDonald House. He is battling a critical, life threatening disease. Walter works in Salem but is able to use the Ronald McDonald House as a home base and avoid the daily long drive between downtown Portland and Salem. They say they are eternally grateful for the services they receive and would not otherwise be able to care for their son this way without the Ronald McDonald House.

ISSUE: E-SCOOTERS

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 20th, 2019

6:30am to 7am

5:41 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: John Brady / Director Portland Bureau of Transportation. KXL's Mike Turner hears from John about how the city is ready to launch a second year of the e-scooter program. He says they have been inviting public feedback about how to improve things. They're looking to make them safer most importantly. Overall Brady says the public likes the e-scooters and has been using them to get around downtown.

ISSUE: LAW

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 20th, 2019

3:29 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Jim Jones / CDO Bullseye Glass. KXL's Jon-Eric Smith gets reaction from Jones after they settled a $6.5 million dollar class action lawsuit for polluting the air in their Portland neighborhood. Jones says although they did not agree with all the complaints in the suit they settled and are moving forward with a new plan that is more compliant with emissions. He says they have been in business in SE Portland for decades and want to be a good neighbor. Jones says Bullseye provides colored and decorative glass that people can't get anywhere else in the world.

ISSUE: RECYCLING

KXTG (AM) PUBLIC AFFAIRS

January 27th, 2019

6:30am to 7am

28:25 minutes of a 30 minute show

Guest: Chris Regis, Heather Graham / Green Century Recycling NW Portland. KXL's Brett Reckamp goes on an exclusive walk along with the owner of Green Century Recycling Chris Regis. They go room by room describing the work of people throughout the different areas. Chris shows how trained warehouse workers take in items then move them through sorting stages. As items get packaged and moved through – some end up in a tech room where people examine and test things. They harvest good parts from computers and other machines and wipe things clean. Some parts are sold while others are used to build new computers or laptops which are then re-sold. Chris says they track everything downstream to guarantee safe recycling and have earned their R2 Certification over time.
