

Quarterly Issues/Program List
For the Period of April 1, 2020 - June 30, 2020

LINVILLE

WUNE-TV 17

Submitted by Sara Freer
July 10, 2020

This report documents the significant issues ascertained within the 12 present transmitter areas The University of North Carolina Center for Public Media for the period of April, May and June 2020.

BACKGROUND

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) requires that each licensee ascertain the significant issues within its community each quarter in a manner it deems most effective.

The information extracted is used for research and planning by the program and production departments of The Center. Provided in this report is a list of programs broadcast which represent the most significant treatment of the enumerated community issues.

Quarterly reports are maintained and filed with each licensee's public file.

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA CENTER FOR PUBLIC MEDIA

QUARTERLY ISSUES/PROGRAMS LIST FOR THE PERIOD APRIL, MAY, JUNE 2020 STATEWIDE LIST OF MOST SIGNIFICANT ISSUES

COMMUNITY	Broadband connection limitations, urban digital divide
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	Unemployment, business closings, reopening, stay-at-home orders
ENVIRONMENT	Kudzo, aquaculture, fish barn
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	COVID-19 response, COVID-19 electoral implications, federal pandemic relief
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	COVID-19, face coverings, medical supplies, genetic counseling
EDUCATION	School closures, online learning, childhood development
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	Hate crimes, police brutality, Black Lives Matter movement

ISSUE	DATE	TIME	LENGTH	PROGRAM	FORMAT	DESCRIPTION
APRIL
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/1/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	President Trump was in the White House briefing room again Wednesday evening for what has become a regular discussion of his administration's response to COVID-19. He was joined by other political leaders and health officials - and this time, by prominent national security figures, as well. Yamiche Alcindor was there, and she joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.
COMMUNITY	4/1/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	As coronavirus has spread across the U.S., so have reports of violence against people of Asian descent, and the FBI warns a surge in hate crimes could be yet to come. These fears have led to the creation of a website for reporting such attacks -- and it has registered more than 1,000 incidents in less than two weeks. Amna Nawaz talks to Cynthia Choi of Chinese for Affirmative Action.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/1/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Face masks are critical protection for medical workers caring for COVID-19 patients, but should everyone else also be wearing them? So far, federal health officials have warned against the general public wearing face masks when outside the home, but that guidance could be changing soon. Amid a global shortage of these masks, William Brangham reports on the conflicting debate.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/1/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	COVID-19 is a huge challenge for many U.S. hospitals, from large cities to rural areas. The next few weeks are expected to be especially difficult, as critical supplies dwindle and health care workers are stressed. William Brangham talks to Dr. Phillip Coule, chief medical officer for Georgia's Augusta University Health System, and Michael Dowling, president and CEO of New York's Northwell Health.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/1/2020	7:30PM	26min	FOCUS ON CORONAVIRUS: CONVERSATION W/ DR. MANDY COHEN PART	Public Affairs	Host Tom Campbell discusses the week's Coronavirus response, from state perspective, w/ NC DHHS Secretary Dr. Mandy Cohen.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/2/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Health officials have stressed that novel coronavirus doesn't discriminate based on race or ethnicity. But disparities long present in the U.S. medical system are now driving what some call a crisis within a crisis: black and brown communities across the country are being hit harder, and with fewer resources to save them. Amna Nawaz talks to Dr. Uché Blackstock of Advancing Health Equity.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/2/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	A sector of the economy that is being hit especially hard amid the coronavirus pandemic is the restaurant industry. In normal times, Americans were spending roughly as much money on dining out as they were at grocery stores. With restaurants now closed, more than 3 millions jobs have been lost nationwide. Paul Solman reports on the impact on establishments in the Washington, D.C., metro area.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/2/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	What does the coronavirus pandemic's unprecedented surge in job loss mean for the American economy? Professor and economist Laura Tyson served as chair of the Council of Economic Advisers during the Clinton administration. She joins Judy Woodruff to discuss whether delivery of federal aid to the unemployed will come soon enough and why the duration of this recession is so difficult to predict.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/2/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	The coronavirus pandemic has infected at least 1 million people and killed over 50,000 worldwide. In the U.S., President Trump is taking new action to bolster medical supplies, and unemployment is surging. Meanwhile, the U.S. Navy relieved the captain of the USS Theodore Roosevelt amid conflict over his response to COVID-19. John Yang reports, and Nick Schifrin joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.
COMMUNITY	4/2/2020	8:00PM	20min	NCIMPACT	Public Affairs	At least 637,000 North Carolinians don't have a minimum broadband connection recommended by the FCC. Most of these people are in rural counties. Anita Brown-Graham examines one western North Carolina county's attempt to bridge the Digital Divide.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/2/2020	8:30PM	20min	SCI NC	Public Affairs	Genetic counseling helps patients make sense of their DNA. Genetics and Cancer how new discoveries in genetics are helping to fight cancer. Undiagnosed Disease Network- A team of scientists at Duke are using genetics to discover unknown diseases.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/3/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	As the coronavirus pandemic spreads across the U.S., officials are warning that there are not enough medical professionals available to meet the growing needs of patients. The shortage has led to the easing of some regulations, enabling medical students to graduate early and retired doctors to return to practice. Lisa Desjardins shares some of their stories from this all-hands-on-deck moment.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/3/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	As millions of Americans find themselves suddenly unemployed and unsure that they can pay their bills, many are desperately awaiting federal aid. But are state and local governments able to deliver the trillions of dollars Congress and President Trump have approved? Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer, D-N.Y., joins Lisa Desjardins to discuss their progress and what Congress should do next.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/3/2020	6:00PM	17min	PBS NewsHour	News	Americans should wear face masks as a way to help stifle the spread of COVID-19, said Dr. Anthony Fauci, one of the nation's top doctors leading the public health fight against the coronavirus pandemic — a departure from previous government guidance to only wear a mask if you were caring for someone with the illness or had it yourself.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/3/2020	7:30PM		NC SPIN	Discussion	Our panel discuss what the legislature should do in their short session, when we should reopen our state and the latest on COVID-19. This week's panelists are Becki Gray, Patrick Sebastian, Chris Fitzsimon & Brad Crone.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/3/2020	8:30PM	26min	FRONT ROW W/ MARC ROTTERMAN	Discussion	This week on Front Row w/ Marc Rotterman...the White House ramps up testing for COVID-19 as states begin to reopen and the North Carolina General Assembly returns to Raleigh. On the panel this week is Mitch Kokai with the Carolina Journal, Political Analyst Joe Stewart, Democratic Strategist Morgan Jackson and Communications Consultant Donna King.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/6/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	A new report from the inspector general of the Department of Health and Human Services offers a snapshot of what hospitals are facing nationwide as the coronavirus spreads. A survey of more than 320 hospitals found week-long waits for COVID-19 test results, insufficient staff to run ventilators and shortages of basic cleaning supplies. Assistant Inspector General Ann Maxwell joins Judy Woodruff.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/6/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Across the U.S., expectant parents and those who have recently given birth are confronting an unanticipated layer of stress due to coronavirus. Health care providers have had to rethink how best to offer prenatal care at a time people are being told to stay home. And some hospitals have barred visitors -- including partners -- during delivery due to the virus' contagiousness. Amna Nawaz reports.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/6/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	NPR's Tamara Keith and Amy Walter of the Cook Political Report join Lisa Desjardins to discuss the latest political news, including the fallout from postponing so many 2020 primary elections, a phone call between President Trump and former Vice President Joe Biden about coronavirus response and the fallout from Trump's firing of the intelligence community inspector general.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/7/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	According to early data about the scope of the coronavirus pandemic in the U.S., COVID-19 is hitting Americans of color especially hard. The CDC has not published racial breakdowns of deaths, but some states are -- and they show that patients dying of the disease are disproportionately black. That trend is evident in Chicago, whose mayor, Lori Lightfoot, joins Yamiche Alcindor to discuss.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/8/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	In order to protect themselves and their communities from the novel coronavirus outbreak, Americans across the country are staying home. But what happens to those who don't have one? Stephanie Sy reports on how people experiencing homelessness are uniquely vulnerable and what's being done in some states to help them through the pandemic.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/8/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	The U.S. Navy has had a tumultuous week, beginning with a request from the captain of the USS Theodore Roosevelt to evacuate most of his ship due to a COVID-19 outbreak, and culminating with the resignation of the Navy secretary who fired him. Nick Schifrin talks to retired Adm. Michael Mullen, who served as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff during the George W. Bush and Obama administrations.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/8/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	Vermont Sen. Bernie Sanders suspended his campaign for the 2020 Democratic presidential nomination on Wednesday after enduring a series of disappointing results in state primary elections. But many of the positions on which Sanders campaigned still resonate with the liberal wing of the party. Lisa Desjardins reports, and Sen. Sherrod Brown, D-Ohio, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/9/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	For the million people living with Parkinson's disease in the United States, medication is the most common form of treatment. But some doctors are now prescribing dance as a way to slow the symptoms -- and bring joy to patients in the process. Special correspondent Shana Fischer visits a ballet class for Parkinson's patients.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/9/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Many Americans affected by the coronavirus pandemic are struggling to pay their rent when they have lost income and haven't yet been able to secure unemployment money. Missed rent, in turn, adds up to landlords who can't pay their mortgages or property tax. And then cities and states will struggle to provide the basic services that tax payments fund. Paul Solman reports on this "looming cascade."
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/9/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	In April, millions of Christians, Jews and Muslims around the world mark Easter, Passover and Ramadan -- some of the holiest observances of the year. But how are followers of these religions expressing faith and community when the pandemic makes traditional gatherings impossible? John Yang reports.

ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/9/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	As unemployment claims in the U.S. mount due to business closures related to the novel coronavirus, former Federal Reserve Chair Janet Yellen offered her perspective on the direction the economy may be heading in the coming months, and warned that job losses could continue to worsen.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/9/2020	8:30PM	26min	FOCUS ON CORONAVIRUS: CONVERSATION W/ DR. PHIL BERGER	Public Affairs	Senate President Pro Tempore, Phil Berger (R-Rockingham County) discusses the upcoming 2020 Legislative session, coronavirus's effects on legislating and state government response to preventing the spread of coronavirus. Marc Rotterman hosts
COMMUNITY	4/9/2020	8:00PM	20min	NCIMPACT	Public Affairs	There are urban areas of North Carolina with poor internet access. Income, race, age and education are some factors behind the urban Digital Divide. Anita Brown-Graham finds a Charlotte, NC alliance focused on reducing urban internet connection woes
ENVIRONMENT	4/9/2020	8:30PM	20min	SCI NC	Public Affairs	Merchants Mill Pond -This park has the largest number of resident snakes in the system. Lake Waccamaw - A look at how efforts to control the invasive plant Hydrilla are helping to save the lake. Crowders Mountain - This state park near Charlotte is struggling with overcrowding issues.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/10/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Amid government orders to stay home, many Americans are spending more time in the kitchen, reducing trips to the grocery store and getting creative with pantry staples. Acclaimed cookbook author Ina Garten is an expert on making the best of the ingredients on hand. She talks to William Brangham about recipe substitutions, the foods that soothe her and what she hopes we take from this experience.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/10/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	The economic emergency driven by the coronavirus pandemic is especially brutal for small businesses, many of which experienced an abrupt and complete loss of income. Although federal aid has been allocated to assist them, logistical obstacles to getting the funds into the hands of business owners remain. We hear from some of these owners, and Amna Nawaz turns to Lisa Desjardins for policy details.

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/10/2020	6:00PM	11min	PBS NewsHour	News	After suspending his campaign for president, Sen. Bernie Sanders, I-Vt., said he will work hard to make sure that Joe Biden becomes president, but added, "He's going to have to listen to and respond to the needs of a whole lot of people who have not been overly enthusiastic about his campaign up to now."
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/10/2020	7:30PM	26min	NC SPIN	Discussion	We begin by discussing the easing of restrictions and ask what's open, what's not and how it impacts you. We then talk about the legislation passed to help with COVID-19 and if there's time we will talk about money problems at DOT. This week's panelists are Peg O'Connell, John Hood, Leo Daughtry and Chris Fitzsimon.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/10/2020	8:30PM	26min	FRONT ROW W/ MARC ROTTERMAN	Discussion	This week on Front Row w/ Marc Rotterman...bi-partisan congressional push back on China and Governor Cooper signs a COVID-19 relief package. On the panel this week is Mitch Kokai with the Carolina Journal, Travis Fain State Government Reporter with WRAL-TV, Nelson Dollar the Senior Adviser to the NC Speaker of the House and Communications Consultant Donna King.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/13/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	New reporting from The New York Times has revealed even more early warnings about the seriousness of the novel coronavirus pandemic -- and raises questions about whether President Trump and his administration waited too long to take important steps. Eric Lipton, an investigative reporter for the Times, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss a critical three-week delay from February into March.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/14/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	President Trump and some state governors are arguing over who should decide how to reopen the U.S. economy after the coronavirus pandemic -- and when. Meanwhile, New York's death toll from COVID-19 has passed 10,000, and meat-processing plants in Pennsylvania and South Dakota are closing after hundreds of their workers tested positive for the virus. Stephanie Sy reports.

EDUCATION	4/14/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	The coronavirus pandemic has disrupted the academic year of some 20 million college students as campuses are shuttered nationwide. Many of these young people are continuing their studies through online classes -- but the transition is not easy for all of them. John Yang reports on the logistical, emotional and economic consequences of this interrupted school year.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/14/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	When businesses and organizations resume activity after COVID-19, it will be in a changed economic landscape. Suzanne Clark is president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, whose 3 million members include all sectors, geographies and sizes. She is planning how they will tackle post-coronavirus challenges, including social distancing and health requirements, and joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/14/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	More than 3,600 COVID-19 deaths in the U.S. are believed to be linked to nursing homes and assisted living centers. The number is only an estimate -- likely an undercount -- because the federal government has not released details of what is happening in these facilities. Amna Nawaz hears personal stories of people affected by the phenomenon and talks to Harvard Medical School's David Grabowski.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/14/2020	7:00PM	26min	FOCUS ON CORONAVIRUS: VETERANS HEALTH	Public Affairs	UNC-TV Military & Veteran Affairs Director, Jeff Smith, discusses the pandemic's effects on veterans and the military healthcare system designed to serve them.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/15/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	President Trump said Tuesday he will cut U.S. funding for the World Health Organization, accusing the body of being too trusting of China's early assertions that it had the novel coronavirus under control. But critics of the move say that WHO is playing an integral role amid the pandemic -- and that no other organization is poised to take its place. Nick Schifrin joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.

ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/15/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	Dr. Mark McClellan and Dr. Scott Gottlieb, both former commissioners of the FDA, have been planning how to reignite a U.S. economy devastated by the coronavirus pandemic. But the gradual reopening they lay out would happen only after several key milestones are reached. McClellan, now director of the Duke-Margolis Center for Health Policy at Duke University, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/16/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	One of the most important pieces of safety gear for health care workers amid the COVID-19 pandemic is the N95 mask, designed to filter out 95 percent of airborne particles. But the surge of patients with the highly contagious disease has meant way more demand than supply. Now, scientists are exploring whether it's possible to decontaminate and reuse the essential coverings. John Yang reports.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/16/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	One of the business sectors hit hardest by the novel coronavirus pandemic has been air travel. Passenger volume is down a stunning 96 percent in the U.S., while airline losses have topped $300 billion worldwide. Despite canceled flights, travelers are not easily able to get their money back. Meanwhile, pilots and other staff worry for their safety. Economics correspondent Paul Solman reports.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/16/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	From the moment the novel coronavirus was identified, there were questions about its origin. This week, reports suggest U.S. diplomats are concerned about a lab in Wuhan, China -- the city where the outbreak began. Nick Schifrin reports and talks to Dr. Luciana Borio, who served on the National Security Council under President Trump, about what scientists do and don't know about this deadly virus.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/16/2020	7:30PM	26min	FOCUS ON CORONAVIRUS: CONVERSATION W/ DR. MANDY COHEN PART 5	Public Affairs	NC DHHS Secretary Mandy Cohen analyzes the latest statistics coming in NC's fight to stem the spread of coronavirus. Tom Campbell hosts.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/16/2020	8:00PM	20min	NCIMPACT	Public Affairs	Work in Burke is a unique education program that shows job seekers how to identify the right job for them. Anita Brown-Graham gets the details on this innovative local and scalable solution.

ENVIRONMENT	4/16/2020	8:30PM	20min	SCI NC	Public Affairs	Ghost Forests- How rising sea levels are changing the coastal forests. Hurricanes and Climate Change - Hurricanes are slower, wetter, stronger and scientists are studying if climate change is the reason. Plastics – Scientists at Duke University are trying to understand how marine plastics are affecting organisms, and how to remove microplastics from the environment.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/17/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	As states mull when to lift pandemic restrictions and reopen, the question of testing for COVID-19 remains a critical one. In much of the country, testing capabilities have not kept up with demand, and health experts and epidemiologists say broader testing is a prerequisite for easing limits on Americans' activities. William Brangham joins Judy Woodruff to discuss the key shortages at play.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/17/2020	6:00PM	12min	PBS NewsHour	News	Vice President Mike Pence was chosen by President Trump to lead his Coronavirus Task Force. This week, the administration offered governors a plan for how to begin lifting restrictions implemented due to the pandemic. Judy Woodruff talks to Pence about persistently inadequate COVID-19 testing and his message to front-line health care workers forced to share and reuse their protective gear.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/17/2020	7:30PM	26min	NC SPIN	Discussion	This week's NC SPIN wants to ask whether the bipartisan road of cooperation with COVID-19 has taken a partisan turn. We discuss whether the NC Department of Transportation has fixed serious management issues and we look ahead to the start of the new school year. This week's panelists are John Hood, Howard Lee, Chris Fitzsimon and Donna Martinez.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/17/2020	8:30PM	26min	FRONT ROW W/ MARC ROTTERMAN	Discussion	This week on Front Row w/ Marc Rotterman...depression era unemployment numbers and the drumbeat to re-open North Carolina picks up steam. On the panel this week is Mitch Kokai with the Carolina Journal, Brooke Medina with the Civitas Institute, Jonah Kaplan the Senior Political Reporter for ABC News 11 and Communications Consultant Donna King.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/21/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	Although the novel coronavirus is known for causing respiratory symptoms, there are new questions about its impact on other parts of the body. COVID-19 may be linked in some patients with increases in inflammation of the heart as well as injury to other organs and tissues. William Brangham talks to Yale University's Dr. Alan Kliger about one of the concerning trends: serious kidney damage.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/21/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	On Tuesday, the Senate renewed its effort to mitigate economic pain caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. Lawmakers approved a $483 billion relief package including money for hospitals, testing and small business lending -- especially targeted to business categories less successful in securing funding through previous legislation. Amna Nawaz reports, and Lisa Desjardins joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/22/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	The COVID-19 pandemic is challenging Americans physically, financially and emotionally. With the dramatic and abrupt life changes the outbreak has caused, what can we do to prioritize our mental health? Dr. Sue Varma, clinical assistant professor of psychiatry at New York University, joins Amna Nawaz to answer viewer questions about sleep, anxiety, talking to kids and more, for our series Ask Us.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/22/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	Secretary of State Mike Pompeo has accused China of a cover-up during the early days of COVID-19, the latest in the U.S. rhetorical pressure campaign. China has pushed back, launching an information war that included conspiracy theories and highly publicized sales of medical equipment to other countries -- including the U.S. Nick Schifrin reports on the roiling confrontation.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/22/2020	7:30PM	26min	FOCUS ON CORONAVIRUS: CONVERSATION W/ DHHS UNDER-SECRETARY BEN MONEY	Public Affairs	Host Deborah Holt-Noel's one-on-one discussion w/ Under-Secretary Ben Money focuses on the spread of coronavirus and COVID-19's effect on North Carolina's African American community

ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/23/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	A new survey by the Pew Research Center finds 43 percent of U.S. adults say they or someone in their household has suffered a job loss or pay cut due to COVID-19. With such widespread impact, it will likely take years for the economy to rebound. But what will recovery even look like, as the pandemic exacerbates existing inequalities and vulnerabilities in American society? Paul Solman reports.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/23/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	More help is on the way for American small businesses. The House approved a $484 billion measure aimed specifically at aiding smaller employers and hospitals Thursday. It comes as another 4.4 million Americans filed for unemployment. Meanwhile, a New York study finds much greater levels of COVID-19 than lab tests have confirmed. John Yang reports and Lisa Desjardins joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/23/2020	7:00PM	26min	FOCUS ON CORONAVIRUS: CONVERSATION W/ DR. MANDY COHEN PART 6	Public Affairs	Dr. Mandy Cohen continues her weekly conversations on North Carolina's coronavirus response. Tom Campbell hosts
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/23/2020	8:30PM	20min	SCI NC	Public Affairs	Hammer Science - A manufacturing firm in Wilmington uses materials science to provide the most basic of tools to companies around the world. Face Your Age - How facial recognition technology is being used in health care. Mosquito Science- Explore the science of this most irritating of insects. Drug Discovery- A scientist at RTI International pledged to discover a new medicine to fight drug resistant TB during her career. The drug just won FDA approval.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/24/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	The White House spent part of Friday addressing concerns about President Trump's apparent conflict with his medical advisors at Thursday's Coronavirus Task Force briefing. Yamiche Alcindor reports, and Amna Nawaz talks to Dr. Michael Osterholm of the University of Minnesota's Center for Infectious Disease Research and Policy about Trump's tendency to make claims on a "non-scientific basis."

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/24/2020	7:30PM	26min	NC SPIN	Discussion	We begin by discussing what Governor Cooper described as a modest Phase Two reopening our state. Next we talk about the crisis at DOT and wonder what it's going to take to fix it. If there's time we want to look into what the legislature is doing especially with a projected budget shortfall of billions. This week's panelists are Becki Gray, Chris Fitzsimon, Rob
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/24/2020	8:30PM	26min	FRONT ROW W/ MARC ROTTERMAN	Discussion	This week on Front Row w/ Marc Rotterman...White House launches Operation Warp Speed, Joe Biden's potential VP picks and State Treasurer Dale Folwell talks about the state's budget. On the panel this week is Mitch Kokai with the Carolina Journal, Communications Consultant Donna King and North Carolina State Treasurer Dale Folwell.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/27/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	Cases of COVID-19 have been rising in some rural parts of the U.S. -- many of which were already squeezed for medical care before the pandemic. With fewer resources available in these places, a spike in patients requiring hospitalization and intensive care can be especially dangerous. William Brangham talks to Dr. Shanti Akers, a pulmonologist at the Phoebe Putney Health System in Albany, Georgia.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/27/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	The spread of COVID-19 has dramatically altered the way Americans both live and die. We asked our viewers to share their stories about losing loved ones during the pandemic, whether to COVID-19 or to something else. Amna Nawaz reports on the strange and sorrowful process of grief for people in isolation.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/27/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	As the U.S. grapples with the novel coronavirus, a bipartisan group is putting together an ambitious plan to scale capacity to track and contain the virus. Andy Slavitt, former director of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss the $46 billion proposal, which would expand contact tracing capabilities as well as provide income for people during isolation.

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/27/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	NPR's Tamara Keith and Amy Walter of the Cook Political Report join Judy Woodruff to discuss the latest political news, including the evolution of the White House Coronavirus Task Force briefing, President Trump's shifting approval ratings and possible electoral implications for Senate races this fall.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/27/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	Weeks into the social distancing driven by the COVID-19 pandemic, some states are beginning to lift restrictions -- while others are extending them. How do business owners and customers feel about the decision to reopen? John Yang talks to Bill Nigut of Georgia Public Broadcasting and Anna Rau of Montana PBS about what they are seeing in their states, which are attempting a phased approach.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/28/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Misinformation and conspiracy theories about COVID-19 have spread rapidly online, creating what some experts are now calling an "infodemic." Health officials across the globe are scrambling to refute a flood of bogus claims, some of which could have harmful consequences. John Yang reports on the dangerous course of falsehoods during this global health crisis -- and techniques to identify them.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/28/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	Demand remains high for relief the federal Paycheck Protection Program is making available for smaller businesses. But the distribution of that money continues to be a source of controversy, and the program has been mired with technical problems. Lisa Desjardins reports and talks to the Main Street Alliance's Amanda Ballantyne and Brad Close of the National Federation of Independent Businesses.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/28/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	Although the House has decided it's not safe for members to return to the Capitol at this stage of the pandemic, the Senate will resume work next week. Senate Minority Leader Chuck Schumer of New York, whose state has suffered the country's highest death toll from COVID-19, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss that decision as well as ongoing issues with small businesses getting federal pandemic relief.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/28/2020	6:00PM	11min	PBS NewsHour	News	Throughout the pandemic, restrictions on social gatherings have forced those who observe major religious holidays to find new ways to practice their faith. How is COVID-19 changing places of worship? Judy Woodruff talks to New York University's Imam Khalid Latif, Rabbi Brigitte Rosenberg of United Hebrew Congregation in St. Louis and Rev. Tim Cole of Christ Church Georgetown in Washington, D.C.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/29/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Testing, both for active cases of COVID-19 and for antibodies indicating prior exposure to the disease, will be critical to resuming economic activity. In addition, scientists are racing to develop therapies for people who do get infected -- especially those who become seriously ill. Science correspondent Miles O'Brien joins Judy Woodruff to discuss the latest on COVID-19 testing and treatment.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/29/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	The social distancing many Americans are practicing to slow the spread of COVID-19 is driving widespread feelings of loneliness and isolation. Into this unfamiliar experience comes a new book about relationships and community: "Together," by former U.S. Surgeon General Vivek Murthy. Murthy joins John Yang to discuss why he believes we can emerge from the pandemic more connected than ever.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/29/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	President Trump has signed an executive order to keep meat processing plants open, but a number of the facilities are currently closed due to outbreaks of COVID-19. What does the pandemic's disruption mean for U.S. agriculture -- and the health of its workers? Special correspondent Fred de Sam Lazaro reports, and William Brangham talks to Amy Mayer of Iowa Public Radio for analysis.
EDUCATION	4/29/2020	6:00PM	11min	PBS NewsHour	News	Roughly 14 percent of students enrolled in U.S. public schools receive special education services. As families across the nation grapple with home learning, what are the particular challenges the parents of these children face? Judy Woodruff reports and talks to Selene Almazan of the Council of Parent Attorneys and Advocates, a nonprofit aiming to protect the rights of children with disabilities.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/29/2020	7:30PM	26min	FOCUS ON CORONAVIRUS: CONVERSATION W/ DR. MANDY COHEN - PART 7	Public Affairs	NC DHHS Secretary Mandy Cohen discusses the three-stage reopening strategy for North Carolina businesses. Tom Campbell hosts.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/30/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	As Americans endure an unprecedented economic situation, they are confronting new challenges and worries about many aspects of their lives. In this week's Ask Us, we focus on concerns about jobs and money. Michelle Singletary, The Washington Post's finance columnist, joins Amna Nawaz to answer viewer questions.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	4/30/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	The current economic crisis means rising demand for food stamps. While Congress has passed additional benefits for some recipients, a large percentage of the poorest households did not get an increase. Meanwhile, many people, from college students now at home to those at high-risk for COVID-19, are facing new complications in accessing their benefits. Economics correspondent Paul Solman reports.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	4/30/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	With more than 30 million Americans losing jobs or businesses and others forced to take pay cuts, making monthly rent and mortgage payments has become increasingly difficult. Viewers share their challenges, and John Yang talks to the National Consumer Law Center's Diane Thompson, formerly of the Consumer Financial Protection bureau, about what regulators and lenders are doing to try to help.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	4/30/2020	6:00PM	11min	PBS NewsHour	News	The World Health Organization held a rare emergency meeting Thursday to discuss the ongoing global health crisis -- and an escalating diplomatic battle with the U.S., its largest funder. President Trump has frozen contributions to WHO, blaming it for echoing China in its early response to COVID-19. Nick Schifrin talks to Duke University's Dr. Michael Merson and Stanford University's Lanhee Chen.

EDUCATION	4/30/2020	8:00PM	20min	NCIMPACT	Public Affairs	Families in some rural areas of North Carolina struggle to find access to pre-school programs they know will give their children the launching pad they need to succeed. That's why many are coming to Transylvania County where a new program was started in 2015 that emphasizes early childhood development. Anita Brown-Graham takes a look at the collaboration it took to make a difference
ENVIRONMENT	4/30/2020	8:30PM	20min	SCI NC	Public Affairs	Eating the Vine that Ate the South – Kudzu is the posterchild for invasive species in the South, but now that it's here should we start using it? Yaupon tea – Before we started importing tea, North Carolina natives used a native holly bush for all our caffeine needs. Now companies are bringing it back as a sustainable alternative. Aquaculture – The NC State fish barn has teamed up with a local farmer to raise both fish and produce. Waste – Winston-Salem school are composting their leftovers and delivering them to a family farm that turns the waste into fertilizer.

ISSUE	DATE	TIME	LENGTH	PROGRAM	FORMAT	DESCRIPTION
MAY
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/1/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Jazz Fest, one of the nation's liveliest annual music celebrations, should have been full-throttle this week in New Orleans. Instead, the city remains locked down, a hot spot in the COVID-19 pandemic with close to 6,500 cases and over 400 deaths. As part of Canvas, our ongoing coverage of arts and culture, Jeffrey Brown talks to one of the city's musical ambassadors about the pandemic's toll.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS/BUSINESS	5/1/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	More than a dozen states relaxed their stay-at-home orders Friday, but some southern states began lifting restrictions earlier, allowing beauty salons, restaurants and other businesses to reopen at their discretion. The iconic Waffle House chain resumed limited dine-in service this week at 400 locations across Georgia and Tennessee. Company CEO Walt Ehmer joins Amna Nawaz to discuss the move.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/1/2020	8:30PM	26min	Front Row with Marc Rotterman	Discussion	U.S. Representative Patrick McHenry offers perspective in recent coronavirus stimulus legislation as the ranking member of the U.S. House Financial Services Committee. Marc Rotterman hosts this exclusive one-on-one.
ECONOMY	5/3/2020	4:00PM	26min	Black Issues Forum	Discussion	Host Deborah Holt Noel leads a Discussion on gaps in broadband internet access that are exposed as students engage in at-home learning.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/4/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	With COVID-19 cases in the U.S. still rising, many experts say the next phase in the pandemic response will require aggressive contact tracing. The technique has been used extensively in prior disease outbreaks elsewhere, but the U.S. currently lacks a nationwide tracing infrastructure. And while apps tracking movement and interactions could help, they raise privacy concerns. Amna Nawaz reports.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/4/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	With the U.S. coronavirus death toll now over 68,000, some fatality projections referenced by the Trump administration have already been surpassed. Roughly 2,000 Americans are dying from the disease every day -- and that number could still rise. Pulitzer Prize-winning science journalist Laurie Garrett joins Judy Woodruff to discuss the latest predictions and what could be done to reduce them.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/5/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	Regional and rural hospitals can be ill-equipped to handle serious coronavirus cases -- so additional care comes to the patient. Jennifer Adamski is a critical care nurse practitioner with the Cleveland Clinic, an Ohio-based hospital system that dispatches her far and wide to retrieve patients in need, often via helicopter. She joins William Brangham to discuss how COVID-19 has changed her job.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/5/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	During this difficult period, some of the millions of Americans stuck at home have turned to new hobbies and do-it-yourself projects to pass the time and redirect their energy. But while such accomplishments can be fulfilling, experts say it's also important to acknowledge the stress and fatigue inherent in isolation. Jeffrey Brown reports as part of our ongoing arts and culture series, Canvas.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	5/5/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	Weeks of business closures and stay-at-home orders have left the American ECONOMY/BUSINESS in shambles. Now, a majority of states are starting to lift restrictions and resume business -- even though COVID-19 cases and deaths nationwide continue to climb. Arkansas Gov. Asa Hutchinson has a phased plan for reopening, and he joins Judy Woodruff to discuss why he thinks this is the right time to implement it.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/5/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	Even in the best of times, mental health and illness tend to be minimized by U.S. health care. That problem is now magnified by an extended period of social isolation, economic disaster and fear. How can Americans cope with this building mental health crisis? Amna Nawaz talks to Dr. Joshua Gordon of the National Institute of Mental Health and former Rep. Patrick Kennedy of the Kennedy Forum.

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/6/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	A closely divided U.S. Supreme Court considered two cases Wednesday: one on the future of exceptions to a birth control mandate in the Affordable Care Act, and another challenging a federal law banning robocalls. John Yang reports on the details of the arguments brought before the justices -- and the challenges of the Court's operating remotely.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/6/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Since the coronavirus pandemic gripped the United States, Americans have been told to avoid emergency rooms and hospitals if possible. But now there are reports from across the country that suggest the warning may be in fact too effective, as some patients experiencing urgent health problems are not seeking the treatment they need. Miles O'Brien reports on the medical and economic consequences.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	5/6/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	The issue of whether to provide states and cities with additional federal funding is one of many challenges confronting Congress during the coronavirus pandemic. South Dakota Sen. John Thune, the second-ranking Republican in the Senate, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss that question, the safety precautions the Senate is taking amid COVID-19 and "broad support" for the Paycheck Protection Program.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS/BUSINESS	5/6/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	With U.S. commercial flights largely empty amid the fallout from the COVID-19 pandemic, airlines are taking a serious financial hit. But while their revenue has plunged due to the drop in demand, they are receiving billions in federal aid. Southwest Airlines CEO and chairman Gary C. Kelly joins Judy Woodruff to discuss the safety of air travel and the financial challenges of the economic crisis.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/6/2020	7:30PM	26min	Focus on Coronavirus: PART 8	Discussion	NC DHHS Secretary Dr Mandy Cohen offers statewide viewers a weekly update on NC's battle to contain the spread of coronavirus. Tom Campbell hosts.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/7/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	As states and businesses around the country begin to reopen, many Americans are worried about the health risks of returning to work. Christina Banks, director of the Interdisciplinary Center for Healthy Workplaces at the University of California, Berkeley, joins Amna Nawaz to respond to viewer questions and concerns about workplace safety during the COVID-19 pandemic.

ECONOMY/BUSINESS	5/7/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	More than half of U.S. states have started lifting pandemic restrictions and reopening their economies. But questions remain about how to resume business while maintaining social distancing. In addition, testing for COVID-19 remains relatively limited, with about 250,000 tests per day conducted nationwide. Judy Woodruff talks to Dr. Ashish Jha, director of the Harvard Global Health Institute.
COMMUNITY	5/7/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Public outcry is mounting over the killing of an unarmed African American man in Georgia over two months ago. Recently released video shows 25-year-old Ahmaud Arbery jogging in late February when he was shot to death by two white men, who said they thought he looked like a burglary suspect. Marcus Arbery, the father of the victim, and his attorney, Benjamin Crump, join Yamiche Alcindor to discuss.
ECONOMY	5/7/2020	8:00PM	26min	NCImpact Special	Discussion	Those who struggled with broadband access before the coronavirus, probably are struggling even more now. Communities across our state are working to narrow the digital divide, and, with the transition to remote learning and online classes, this work becomes even more important. nclMPACT looks at the solutions.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	5/8/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	A new jobs report details a picture of devastating national unemployment not seen since the Great Depression. Neel Kashkari, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis and former assistant secretary of the treasury, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss why the crisis is likely even worse than it appears, who is hurt the most and what the government can do to try to stabilize the U.S. business.
ECONOMY	5/7/2020	8:00PM	26min	NCIMPACT SPECIAL	Discussion	Those who struggled with broadband access before the coronavirus, probably are struggling even more now. Communities across our state are working to narrow the digital divide, and, with the transition to remote learning and online classes, this work becomes even more important. nclMPACT looks at the solutions.

ECONOMY	5/8/2020	8:30PM	26min	Front Row with Marc Rotterman	Discussion	U.S. Congressman David Price joins host Marc Rotterman for an in-depth Discussion of federal action to stimulate the stalled U.S. economy, U.S. and Chinese relations and COVID-19.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS/BUSINESS	5/11/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	Across the globe, lockdowns imposed to try to slow the spread of COVID-19 are being lifted, businesses are reopening and people are returning to work. But even in countries that had successfully controlled their coronavirus outbreaks, like South Korea and Singapore, there are warnings of how quickly the virus can reassert itself when restrictions loosen and activity resumes. Nick Schifrin reports.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS/BUSINESS	5/11/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	During the COVID-19 pandemic, restaurants, theaters, parks and other places where people come together are closed in an effort to keep them apart. Meanwhile, people who share a home spending much more time together than they usually do. What do these changes mean for dating and relationships? Lisa Desjardins reports on how Americans are staying connected amid unprecedented social circumstances.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/11/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	For more than 60 million Americans with disabilities, the rapid spread of COVID-19 is especially dangerous. Many live in long-term care facilities, and they are twice as likely to experience poverty as those without disability. But so far, legislation has fallen short on help. We hear some of their stories, and Stephanie Sy talks to Rebecca Cokley of the Center for American Progress.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/11/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Congress has appropriated roughly $175 billion so far to help hospitals and other health care providers weather the consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic. But some are still struggling to keep up with the need, and racial disparities in the American health care system are magnifying the problem. William Brangham talks to Tim Egan and Lynette Houston of Chicago's Roseland Community Hospital.

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/11/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	The COVID-19 pandemic has killed over 80,000 people and infected more than 1.3 million in the U.S. -- including some in the White House, where several officials are isolating after possible exposure. But the movement to lift restrictions is gaining steam, even though health experts say testing is still not adequate. Yamiche Alcindor reports and joins Judy Woodruff and William Brangham to discuss.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/12/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	The Supreme Court heard arguments Tuesday in President Trump's legal battle to keep his finances secret. Authorities in New York as well as several House committees are seeking Trump's financial records, arguing they could reveal potential crimes or improper influence. As John Yang reports, the Court's decision could have profound implications for the constitutional separation of powers.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/12/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	New warnings from U.S. public health officials Tuesday emphasized that the national fight against COVID-19 is far from over -- and that lifting restrictions too quickly could cause unnecessary deaths. The sobering message was delivered as senior health figures, including Dr. Anthony Fauci, testified virtually before a Senate committee, and the U.S. death toll passed 82,000. Amna Nawaz reports.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/12/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	On Tuesday, top U.S. public health officials testified virtually about the coronavirus pandemic before the Senate Committee on Health, EDUCATION, Labor and Pensions. Republican Sen. Bill Cassidy of Louisiana is one of two medical doctors within the group. He joins Judy Woodruff to discuss strategy for COVID-19 testing, Dr. Anthony Fauci and why he is now "more confident" about the crisis response.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/12/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	As more states lift restrictions put in place to slow the coronavirus, the Senate Committee on Health, EDUCATION, Labor and Pensions is hearing from health officials on the pandemic response. One of the country's earliest outbreaks of COVID-19 was in Washington state. Its senior senator, Patty Murray, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss her concern about lack of transparency in testing for the virus.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/12/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	In U.S. cases of COVID-19 where race was identified, nearly 30 percent of patients were black -- even though African Americans make up only about 13 percent of the general population. The share of cases among Latinos is also disproportionately large. What is behind these significant racial disparities, and how are they affecting communities suffering the pandemic's toll? Yamiche Alcindor reports.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/13/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	Can states punish presidential electors for bucking a pledge to vote for their state's winner? That was the question at the heart of Wednesday's Supreme Court arguments, held once again by phone. Some states sought to invalidate the votes of these so-called "faithless electors" after the 2016 election. The electors sued, and the case has major implications for the next election. John Yang reports.
EDUCATION	5/13/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	Since the coronavirus pandemic closed schools nationwide, children are spending much more time at home. But reports of abuse and neglect have declined dramatically, prompting concerns among child welfare advocates that mistreatment isn't being exposed. William Brangham reports on the fears of child welfare experts and talks to Dr. Robert Sege, a pediatrician at Tufts Medical Center.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/13/2020	7:30PM	26min	Focus on Coronavirus: PART 9	Discussion	U.S. DHHS Secretary Dr Mandy Cohen offers statewide viewers a weekly update on NC's battle to contain the spread of coronavirus. Tom Campbell hosts.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	5/14/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	The global death toll in the coronavirus pandemic has reached 300,000, with 85,000 fatalities in the U.S. alone. The new numbers were posted as federal vaccine expert Dr. Rick Bright, in congressional testimony, levied grave criticism of the White House's crisis response. Meanwhile, nearly 3 million additional Americans filed for unemployment amid a crippled ECONOMY/BUSINESS. Yamiche Alcindor reports.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/14/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	During the coronavirus pandemic, we all have questions, and the NewsHour is bringing them to experts for answers. This week, we consider the challenges parents are experiencing as they try to help children navigate an unfamiliar world. Dr. Sarah Vinson, a child and adolescent psychiatrist, joins Amna Nawaz to discuss.
EDUCATION	5/14/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Colleges and universities across the country are wrestling with how and when to reopen for classes in the fall. While some are planning to bring students and faculty back to campus, others feel such a move would be unwise and will conduct only online learning. Judy Woodruff talks to Timothy White, chancellor of California State University, about his institution's shift to mostly remote classes.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	5/14/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	As millions more Americans file for unemployment amid an ECONOMY/BUSINESS crippled by COVID-19, many states are lifting restrictions and reopening businesses. But is that the correct approach to reviving the U.S. ECONOMY/BUSINESS? Paul Solman talks to Nobel Prize-winning economist Paul Romer about weighing costs and benefits and why "there are no good alternatives" to making COVID-19 testing ubiquitous in the U.S.
COMMUNITY	5/14/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	COVID-19 is sweeping the country's jails and prisons. They have proven to be breeding grounds for contagion, with close quarters and a lack of protective gear. Some have released inmates early to free up space -- but people inside say it is too little, too late. Yamiche Alcindor reports, and William Brangham talks to Dr. Homer Venters, former chief medical officer of the New York City jail system.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/14/2020	6:00PM	12min	PBS NewsHour	News	Governing in a crisis like the novel coronavirus pandemic can define a presidency. What lessons does history have to offer as a guide? Judy Woodruff reports and talks to former Chicago Mayor Rahm Emanuel, who was President Obama's chief of staff during the Great Recession, and the National Endowment for Democracy's Andrew Card, who served as President George W. Bush's chief of staff after 9/11.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/14/2020	8:00PM	26min	NCImpact Special	Discussion	Many residents in cities and rural areas share challenges in getting access to healthcare during stay-at-home orders. But telehealth can be a lifeline to those who need help. Frontline healthcare workers can bridge that healthcare gap exploiting new technologies to better serve their communities and their patients. nclMPACT looks at the solutions.
EDUCATION	5/15/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	It is that time of year when graduates of all levels are usually crossing the stage, shaking hands and receiving their diplomas. But the look and feel of these events this year is, of course, quite different, almost all of them virtual.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/15/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	While only a small percentage of children infected with the novel coronavirus become seriously ill, researchers are now learning about a potentially dangerous syndrome in young people apparently caused by the virus. In more than 100 cases in New York and 60 in Europe, doctors have seen an inflammatory response similar to Kawasaki disease. William Brangham talks to pediatrician Dr. Jane Newburger.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/15/2020	7:30PM	26min	NC SPIN	Discussion	Our panel discuss what the legislature should do in their short session, when we should reopen our state and the latest on COVID-19. This week's panelists are Becki Gray, Patrick Sebastian, Chris Fitzsimon & Brad Crone.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/15/2020	8:30PM	26min	Front Row with Marc Rotterman	Discussion	This week on Front Row w/ Marc Rotterman...the White House ramps up testing for COVID-19 as states begin to re-open and the North Carolina General Assembly returns to Raleigh. On the panel this week is Mitch Kokai with the Carolina Journal, Political Analyst Joe Stewart, Democratic Strategist Morgan Jackson and Communications Consultant Donna King.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/17/2020	4:00PM	26min	Black Issues Forum	Discussion	Election Day 2020 is coming up, but what will the rules of engagement be, especially with regard to COVID-19? Rep. G.K. Butterfield and the head of the state board of elections join Deborah Holt Noel to talk about early voting, vote-by-mail, and more.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/18/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	The World Health Organization hosted its annual summit Monday. This year, the meeting was intended to enable world leaders to coordinate their responses to the threat of the COVID-19 pandemic. But the session was dominated by ongoing tensions between the U.S. and China -- and criticism from other countries about a vacuum of global leadership. Nick Schifrin joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/18/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	President Trump has fired three inspectors general recently, including State Department watchdog Steve Linick on Friday. Two Democratic lawmakers say Linick was investigating a Saudi arms deal the White House fast-tracked. Yamiche Alcindor talks to Joel Brenner, a former national security inspector general and director of national intelligence, about how politicizing the IG role is "all wrong."
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/18/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	In all but two U.S. states, stay-at-home orders are being lifted, and businesses are reopening. But can the lifting of restrictions be safe, when COVID-19 is still increasing in many parts of the country? Atul Gawande, a surgeon at Brigham and Women's Hospital and chair of the joint health care venture Haven, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss how to control virus spread as daily activities resume.
EDUCATION	5/18/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	With schools closed and classes moving online, students nationwide are being forced to adapt to a new learning landscape. One challenge: standardized testing for college admissions, many of which have been canceled this spring. Although test administrators say tests will be run online by this fall, some experts worry that shift will exacerbate existing systemic inequities. Stephanie Sy reports.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/19/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	Amid a global pandemic comes a novel about a global pandemic. Lawrence Wright wrote "The End of October" before the new coronavirus was discovered in China, but some of its chapters feel ripped from today's headlines. Wright joins Jeffrey Brown to discuss returning to fiction after years in journalism and what inspired his prescient story. It's part of our arts and culture series, Canvas.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/19/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Nursing homes across the country are facing a desperate situation during the coronavirus pandemic. In 17 states, more than half of reported COVID-19 deaths have been at these facilities. Chronic staffing shortages, made worse by the virus, and inadequate infection control procedures exacerbate the threat amid the population that is the most vulnerable. Lisa Desjardins reports.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	5/19/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Top U.S. economic officials are being pressed for answers about government relief efforts amid COVID-19. Pennsylvania Republican Sen. Pat Toomey sits on the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs, as well as the Congressional Oversight Commission that monitors spending from the CARES Act. Toomey joins Judy Woodruff to discuss why he isn't ready to deliver more federal aid to states.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/20/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	State Department Inspector General Steve Linick was actively investigating Sec. of State Mike Pompeo when he was fired by President Trump recently. It was the latest in a series of IG dismissals sending shockwaves through the watchdog community. On Wednesday, Pompeo answered questions about the move, denying he knew Linick was investigating him. Nick Schifrin joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/20/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	The Trump administration is saying increased security on the U.S.-Mexico border is necessary to prevent the coronavirus' spread. As a result, more than 900 migrant children were deported in March and April shortly after they reached the border -- much more quickly than normal, and without standard safeguards observed. John Yang talks to Caitlin Dickerson of The New York Times.
Science/Technology	5/20/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	For months, scientists and public officials have relied upon computer-based models to try to predict the trajectory or the coronavirus outbreak. But models are not crystal balls, and all of them involve human assumptions. Science correspondent Miles O'Brien reports on how the efforts that go into making these models -- and their ultimate purpose -- are more complicated than many of us realize.

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/20/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	Throughout the coronavirus pandemic, questions have been raised about why the U.S. federal government was not better prepared for such a crisis. Scrutiny of President Trump has been intense, but questions extend beyond him to the efficacy of government and civil service more broadly. William Brangham talks to the American Enterprise Institute's Yuval Levin and The Atlantic's George Packer.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/20/2020	7:30PM	26min	Focus on Coronavirus: PART 10	Discussion	DHHS Secretary Dr Mandy Cohen offers statewide viewers a weekly update on NC's battle to contain the spread of coronavirus. Tom Campbell hosts.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/21/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	A newly released analysis of coronavirus' spread in the U.S. suggests a haunting hypothetical: that if social distancing and stay-at-home orders had been implemented only a week earlier, more than 30,000 lives might have been saved. But that alternate scenario relies upon computer-based modeling that has its limitations. Miles O'Brien joins Judy Woodruff to discuss how this data can be useful.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/21/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	During this unprecedented crisis, we all have questions -- and the NewsHour is turning to experts for answers. In this edition of Ask Us, virologist Angela Rasmussen of Columbia University joins Amna Nawaz to take viewer questions on transmission of the novel coronavirus, including whether it can be contracted from swimming pools and street surfaces.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	5/21/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	For more than two months, the toll of unemployment in the U.S. has grown each week. The retail sector, which was already struggling before the pandemic, is among the hardest hit, with stores closed or at reduced capacity and consumers nervous about spending money. And many economists believe these lost jobs will not be returning anytime soon. Economics correspondent Paul Solman reports.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/21/2020	8:00PM	26min	NCImpact Special	Discussion	The growing reach of COVID-19 brings particular challenges and risks. nclMPACT explores the solutions for those struggling with substance use disorders amid this crisis.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/22/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Scientists say antibody testing could be a key tool in the fight against the novel coronavirus. Still, many questions remain about the accuracy of antibody testing. The Food and Drug Administration has tried to crack down on inaccurate tests, but scientists aren't even sure yet what a positive test means for immunity. John Yang reports.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/22/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	The Trump administration has emphasized the possibility that the novel coronavirus was accidentally released by scientists at a Chinese lab. While that accusation remains unproven, China's oversight of such scientific research has come under scrutiny in the past, and now, an area in which the U.S. and China previously collaborated has grown fraught with tension. Nick Schifrin reports.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/22/2020	7:30PM	26min	NC SPIN	Discussion	We begin by discussing the easing of restrictions and ask what's open, what's not and how it impacts you. We then talk about the legislation passed to help with COVID-19 and if there's time we will talk about money problems at DOT.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/22/2020	8:30PM	26min	Front Row with Marc Rotterman	Discussion	This week on Front Row w/ Marc Rotterman...bi-partisan congressional push back on China and Governor Cooper signs a COVID-19 relief package. On the panel this week is Mitch Kokai with the Carolina Journal, Travis Fain State Government Reporter with WRAL-TV, Nelson Dollar the Senior Adviser to the NC Speaker of the House and Communications Consultant Donna King.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/25/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Many Western societies have not had to face death at the scale of COVID-19 since World War II, nearly 75 years ago. Could the grim reality of the coronavirus pandemic change the way we deal with life and loss? Special correspondent Malcolm Brabant reports.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/25/2020	6:00PM	13min	PBS NewsHour	News	Memorial Day represents the kickoff to summer and the usually busy vacation travel season. As states lift pandemic restrictions and reopen their economies, how are beach towns and business owners adjusting to a new landscape reshaped by coronavirus? John Yang reports, and Judy Woodruff talks to two mayors, Shirley Sessions of Georgia's Tybee Island and John Olivarri of Missouri's Osage Beach.

Science/Technology	5/26/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	It has been nearly a decade since an American space crew last lifted off from U.S. soil in a spacecraft built here. That's expected to change Wednesday afternoon with the relaunch of manned space flight. But the occasion will be very different from past launches, as this time, a private company is leading the way as a NASA partner. Miles O'Brien reports on the potentially "revolutionary" moment.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/26/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	With researchers around the world racing to develop a vaccine for COVID-19, attention is increasingly turning to a potential stop-gap measure – convalescent plasma. The yellowish gold part of our blood that contains antibodies to help fight viruses is the focus of research in labs and hospitals and shows early signs of promise. John Yang reports.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/26/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	The number of Americans providing unpaid care for loved ones has been rising in recent years. The coronavirus pandemic and the associated shutdowns have made these difficult roles that much harder, increasing isolation and limiting resources. We hear stories from some of these caregivers, and Judy Woodruff talks to C. Grace Whiting, president and CEO of the National Alliance for Caregiving.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/27/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	Who will care for the children of working parents when they return to their jobs, if schools and many child care providers remain closed? The CARES Act allocated $3.5 billion to support child care programs, but a national organization says many providers have yet to receive any funding. Special correspondent Cat Wise reports from Oregon, where a shortage of child care slots preceded the pandemic.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/27/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	The American death toll from the COVID-19 pandemic passed the 100,000 milestone on Wednesday. Dr. Anthony Fauci is one of the country's leading public health officials and a key member of President Trump's Coronavirus Task Force. He joins Judy Woodruff to discuss the country's "terrible ordeal," how we can contain the virus moving forward and why he is cautiously optimistic about a vaccine.

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/27/2020	6:00PM	12min	PBS NewsHour	News	Lawmakers agree struggling Americans need another economic relief package due to the pandemic's fallout. But congressional Republicans and Democrats differ over who should receive that assistance. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi joins Judy Woodruff to discuss a new House proposal for COVID-19 testing, being more "prescriptive" about how federal aid is spent and whether to hold an in-person convention.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/27/2020	7:30PM	26min	Focus on Coronavirus: PART 11	Discussion	DHHS Secretary Dr Mandy Cohen offers statewide viewers a weekly update on NC's battle to contain the spread of coronavirus. Tom Campbell hosts.
Employment	5/28/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Many Americans are working from home during the coronavirus pandemic, and it's unclear when people will or should return to the workplace. The shift toward more remote work could have significant repercussions for employees, companies and the marketplace. Economics correspondent Paul Solman explores these transformations -- and their advantages and drawbacks -- in a two-part series.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	5/28/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	The economic toll of the pandemic and the ensuing shutdowns continues to grow, with more than 40 million people losing jobs so far. Although economic activity will pick up as businesses reopen, there is growing debate about how government policy can support struggling Americans and a fragile ECONOMY/BUSINESS. Judy Woodruff talks to Mary Daly, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	5/28/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	More than 100,000 Americans have died from COVID-19 so far -- a number unimaginable before the pandemic began. The U.S. has nearly 30 percent of reported deaths worldwide. How does this tragic moment fit into American historical context? Judy Woodruff talks to Andy Slavitt, former acting administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, and presidential historian Michael Beschloss.

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	5/28/2020	7:00PM	26min	Divided We Fall: Unity without Tragedy	Story Feature	Ordinary citizens together to wrestle with the complex issues that divide our nation. Breaking out of partisan echo chambers to listen to one another, the participants - equal numbers of whom strongly approve and disapprove of President Donald Trump - explore what it means to be an American, what constitutes a "more perfect union," and what can be done to bridge the gaps between them.
ECONOMY	5/28/2020	8:00PM	26min	NCIMPACT	Discussion	Serving time in jail in many ways is not the end of punishment. The criminal conviction remains on your record after time served can present new challenges in the job search, getting an apartment, and even applying to school. Host Anita Brown-Graham looks at a program that offers legal relief to those stuck in limbo.
COMMUNITY	5/29/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Former Vice President Joe Biden on Friday accused President Donald Trump of sending "incendiary tweets" about the protests over George Floyd's death in Minneapolis this week, saying the rhetoric inflamed tensions and fit into a broader pattern of Trump stoking racism.

ISSUE	DATE	TIME	LENGTH	PROGRAM	FORMAT	DESCRIPTION
JUNE
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/1/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Cities across the U.S. are bracing for unrest as protests continue. Outrage over police killings of black victims, most recently that of George Floyd at the hands of Minneapolis police on Memorial Day, has fueled demonstrations, and in some cases, destruction. In response, President Trump called for stricter policing, telling governors they must “dominate” protesters. Yamiche Alcindor reports.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/1/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Demonstrations that began in Minneapolis after the death of George Floyd in police custody on Memorial Day have spread to dozens of cities across the U.S. over the weekend, and thousands of protesters have been arrested. Amna Nawaz talks to special correspondent Fred de Sam Lazaro, Rickey Bevington of Georgia Public Broadcasting in Atlanta and Cerise Castle of KCRW public radio in Los Angeles.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/1/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	Peaceful protests around the U.S. continue Monday night, but there will likely also be charged confrontations and more looting and destruction. How can law enforcement defuse these fraught situations and minimize violence while acknowledging protesters’ voices? Judy Woodruff talks to Sheriff Christopher Swanson of Genesee County, Michigan, and Michael Nutter, former mayor of Philadelphia.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/1/2020	6:00PM	11min	PBS NewsHour	News	For analysis of the deeper systemic issues that are underlying the country’s civic unrest, Judy Woodruff talks to Roxane Gay, a noted essayist and author whose work frequently addresses issues of race, identity and privilege; Anna Deavere Smith, award-winning playwright and actor; and Tay Anderson, a Denver school board member and activist who has been leading protests in that city.

MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/2/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	The U.S. has now experienced a full week of protests over police treatment of black Americans. The death of George Floyd in Minneapolis has triggered widespread demonstrations, curfews and thousands of arrests. National Guard troops have been called up in states across the country. And President Trump's rhetoric urging increased use of force is prompting more disagreement. Amna Nawaz reports.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/2/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	With protests taking place in cities across the country, how should the federal government respond? Republican Sen. John Thune of South Dakota joins Judy Woodruff to discuss President Trump's rhetoric about the use of force, whether a peaceful protest near the White House Monday should have been interrupted as it was, the role of Congress in addressing racial unrest and federal pandemic aid.
CRIME/LEGAL	6/3/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	As protests over the death of George Floyd continue in cities nationwide, there were major developments Wednesday in the legal response to the case. Derek Chauvin, the officer who pressed his knee into Floyd's neck, is now charged with second-degree murder, while three other officers are accused of aiding and abetting a murder. Lisa Desjardins reports.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/3/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	Structural racism is now sharing the American cultural spotlight with COVID-19. While solutions to racial disparities in police treatment, health care and education will likely require policy changes, some experts say decisions at the family and individual levels matter just as much. Special correspondent Charlayne Hunter-Gault talks to Margaret Hagerman of Mississippi State University.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/3/2020	6:00PM	13min	PBS NewsHour	News	Widespread protests over George Floyd's death and the treatment of black Americans by police more broadly have dominated the U.S. in recent days. For analysis of the issues at the heart of the unrest, Amna Nawaz talks to Art Acevedo, Houston's chief of police, Tracey Meares, professor and founder of the Justice Collaboratory at Yale Law School and Samuel Sinyangwe of the group Campaign Zero.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/3/2020	7:30PM	26min	Focus on Coronavirus: PART 12	Discussion	DHHS Secretary Dr Mandy Cohen offers statewide viewers a weekly update on NC's battle to contain the spread of coronavirus. Tom Campbell hosts.

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/4/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Mayor Muriel Bowser said on Thursday that she thinks “there is a legal question” about President Trump’s ability to call out-of-state National Guard into the District of Columbia. Bowser joins Judy Woodruff to discuss how the city has seen protests at the White House swell “ever since peaceful protesters were forcibly moved” and how she sees the federal government encroaching on D.C.’s autonomy.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/4/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Fears of the coronavirus pandemic and the sharp shifts by companies to allow employees to work from home could devastate the nation’s office skyscrapers, some economists say. But real estate moguls say the office as we know it isn’t dead yet. Economics correspondent Paul Solman explores how uncertainty is affecting the market.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/4/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	President Trump’s talk of using military force on people protesting police brutality against black Americans has generated a backlash among a number of former senior military officers. Nick Schifrin gets perspective from retired Army Gen. Carter Ham on why these officials, as well as some who are currently serving, are wary of sending active-duty troops into the United States.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/4/2020	8:00PM	26min	NCImpact Special	Discussion	In addition to keeping children physically safe during the COVID-19 pandemic, experts say it is also important to care for their emotional health. nclMPACT dives into how to support children and parents during this crisis.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/5/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	The U.S. enters another weekend still echoing with outrage over the killing of George Floyd in Minneapolis, plus more reports of police violence in the subsequent protests. But there is also news of some economic recovery, with more than 2 million jobs added in May. The president melded the two during Friday remarks at the Rose Garden -- and quickly drew criticism for it. Stephanie Sy reports.

ECONOMY/BUSINESS	6/5/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	Jobs numbers from May were unexpectedly strong, catching most economists by surprise. But the Trump administration was quick to hail them as early indications of an economic recovery already underway. How do others interpret the new data -- and what do they suggest about the future? John Yang reports and talks to labor economist Elise Gould of the Economic Policy Institute and Lisa Desjardins.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/5/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	The nationwide protests over the killing of George Floyd are forcing many state and local government officials to closely examine their law enforcement agencies and practices. Los Angeles Mayor Eric Garcetti announced Thursday his proposal to cut $150 million from the city's police budget and put that money toward helping communities of color. He joins Judy Woodruff to discuss accountability.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/5/2020	6:00PM	57min	PBS NewsHour	News	As the United States grapples with widespread unrest after the killing of George Floyd by Minneapolis police, our fraught national relationship with race is again in the spotlight. How can we move forward from this moment? PBS NewsHour believes we should begin the conversation by listening to black Americans. For that, we turn to a variety of grassroots voices, newsmakers and thought leaders.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	6/5/2020	7:30PM	26min	NC Spin	Discussion	We begin by discussing what Governor Cooper described as a modest Phase Two reopening our state. Next we talk about the crisis at DOT and wonder what it's going to take to fix it. If there's time we want to look into what the legislature is doing especially with a projected budget shortfall of billions.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/5/2020	8:30PM	26min	Front Row with Marc Rotterman	Discussion	This week on Front Row w/ Marc Rotterman...White House launches Operation Warp Speed, Joe Biden's potential VP picks and State Treasurer Dale Folwell talks about the state's budget. On the panel this week is Mitch Kokai with the Carolina Journal, Communications Consultant Donna King and North Carolina State Treasurer Dale Folwell.

MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/8/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Nationwide protests against police violence toward black Americans have raised concerns about the potential spread of coronavirus. If people are not social distancing and are gathering in the thousands, are they exposing themselves to greater risk for COVID-19? And how should that risk be weighed? Lisa Desjardins talks to Dr. Georges Benjamin of the American Public Health Association.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/8/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	In the midst of the coronavirus pandemic, millions of Americans are relying on mail carriers and delivery workers for essential supplies. The workload for many of these employees has increased significantly with so many consumers ordering from home. Stress and fatigue are at high levels, as workers worry about virus exposure -- and take extra precautions not to bring it home. Amna Nawaz reports.
CRIME/LEGAL	6/8/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	While "defund the police" has become a rallying cry for Black Lives Matter activists and some of the thousands of protesters across the country, Democrats on Capitol Hill are considering a different set of reforms. Sen. Cory Booker, D-N.J., is one of the sponsors of a new bill, and he joins Amna Nawaz to discuss the "common sense" police reforms he advocates and how to heal American society.
CRIME/LEGAL	6/8/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	As we have seen in Minneapolis, whose city council says it will defund the police, the move to reform law enforcement is gaining steam. Some activists want to abolish police departments entirely, while others aim to reallocate some of their funding to other services. Judy Woodruff talks to Charlene Carruthers of the Movement for Black Lives and Chuck Wexler of the Police Executive Research Forum.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/9/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	The question of how to conduct elections safely during a pandemic remains timely as voters go to the polls in five states on Tuesday. With COVID-19 still present across the country, officials are trying to prepare for this fall's election, such as by expanding the use of mail-in ballots. But as William Brangham reports, Republicans are making unproven allegations about voting by mail.

MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/9/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	George Floyd's death and the ensuing protests have reignited the American conversation on race. That includes inequities and discrimination in news reporting, where several recent incidents have highlighted the different experiences of black and white journalists. Judy Woodruff talks to Dorothy Tucker of the National Association of Black Journalists and Norman Pearlstine of the Los Angeles Times.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/9/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	George Floyd's death and ensuing mass protests over police treatment of black Americans have sparked new calls to improve race relations within the U.S. military, as well. On Tuesday, the U.S. Air Force made history by confirming the first African American chief of a military service. Nick Schifrin reports and talks to retired Major General Dana Pittard and retired Brigadier General Remo Butler.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/10/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Although Americans are trying to move closer to their pre-pandemic routines, there are signs the coronavirus continues to spread in places that have eased restrictions. One of those is Alabama, among the last states to issue a stay-at-home order and the earliest to lift it. John Yang looks at the risks associated with reopening in this report.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/10/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	As Americans attempt to return to pre-pandemic habits and activities, COVID-19 continues to spread. More than 20 states have seen a jump in coronavirus cases in the past couple of weeks, and hospitalizations have increased significantly in at least eight. Dr. Ashish Jha, director of the Harvard Global Health Institute, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss how states can balance the risks of reopening.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/10/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	Nearly one in four Americans lives with a disability. For some, that means a compromised immune system and greater risk for the coronavirus. Advocates are sounding the alarm that Congress needs to do more to help this population of society's most vulnerable. Judy Woodruff talks to Tom Ridge of the National Organization on Disability and Danny Woodburn, an actor and disability rights advocate.

MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/10/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	The national outcry to end racial injustice in the U.S. has expanded from protests in the streets to appeals on Capitol Hill. Philonise Floyd, George Floyd's younger brother, headlined a Wednesday hearing before the House Judiciary Committee, which is working on a bill to address police violence and racism. Lisa Desjardins reports and joins Judy Woodruff to discuss the latest from Congress.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/10/2020	7:30PM	26min	Focus on Coronavirus: PART 13	Discussion	DHHS Secretary Dr Mandy Cohen offers statewide viewers a weekly update on NC's battle to contain the spread of coronavirus. Tom Campbell hosts.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/11/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	The number of weekly jobless claims is the lowest since the economic shutdown began in March, but it remains far above what the U.S. has experienced during other financial crises. Jerome Powell, chairman of the Federal Reserve, said earlier this week that he expects unemployment to remain elevated for years to come. David Wessel of the Brookings Institution joins Judy Woodruff to discuss.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/11/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Stay-at-home orders posed a special challenge to Americans who struggle with addiction and rely on the support of in-person recovery meetings. Many others found their alcohol consumption patterns changed significantly during the pandemic. William Brangham reports on the impact COVID-19 has had on Americans' substance use -- including consequences that could long outlast the virus.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/11/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	The top U.S. military officer, Gen. Mark Milley, apologized for joining President Trump in a June 1 photo op amid protests over racial violence. Authorities had forcibly cleared protesters near the White House. In a recorded commencement address to the National Defense University, Milley called the decision "a mistake that I've learned from." Nick Schifrin talks to retired Lt. Gen. Ben Hodges.

ECONOMY/BUSINESS	6/11/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Shutting down the U.S. economy in an effort to control the coronavirus outbreak came at enormous cost to American businesses. But the damage borne by African American entrepreneurs has been especially significant. Paul Solman reports on how black business owners face additional challenges -- from racism among customers to a lack of financial support -- even when economic circumstances are strong.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/12/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	More than 150 years after the Civil War, monuments, schools and roads across the country still bear the names of Confederate leaders. But amidst recent protests demanding racial equality, there is a renewed push to take down the monuments and rename other landmarks. Lisa Desjardins reports on how the death of George Floyd has prompted louder calls to remove public symbols of the Confederacy.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/12/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	NASCAR's decision to ban the Confederate flag represents a major shift for a sport at whose races they have been ubiquitous. Successfully pushing for the ban this week was Bubba Wallace, a driver in NASCAR's top series. He joins Amna Nawaz to discuss how his sport is showing leadership, why he sees the demographics of NASCAR fans changing and his own experience with the Confederate flag.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/12/2020	6:00PM	11min	PBS NewsHour	News	Gen-Z is entering adulthood as the U.S. grapples with systemic inequities in institutions from policing to education to health care. Student Reporting Labs, our journalism program for high school students, asked teenagers across the country how they're approaching the moment, and Stephanie Sy talks to activists Thandiwe Abdullah, founder of Black Lives Matter LA Youth Vanguard, and Jalen Thompson.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/12/2020	7:30PM	26min	NC Spin	Discussion	It's week one of phase 2, and week 2 of the short session. We bring you up to date on both. Plus our summer reading lists, and the ongoing battle over Native American gaming in our state.

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/12/2020	8:30PM	26min	Front Row with Marc Rotterman	Discussion	This week on Front Row w/ Marc Rotterman...the controversy over mail in ballots and America getting back to work. On the panel this week is Mitch Kokai with Carolina Journal, Former Democratic House Representative Ed Hanes, Democratic State Senator Mike Woodard and Communications Consultant Donna King.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	6/14/2020	6:00PM	26min	Black Issues Forum Special	Discussion	With 22 million Americans unemployed in the Spring, ideas about budgeting, saving, investing, and eliminating debt may seem overwhelming. The Money Coach Lynn Khalfani-Cox and Edward Fulbright a CPA and host of the personal & business finance radio program "Mastering Your Money" share tips on financial planning to survive COVID-19.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/15/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	Since the killing of George Floyd at the hands of Minneapolis police officers, calls have grown for that city to overhaul its police department. Now, the effort to "dismantle the police department as we know it" has gained the support of a majority of city council members. What does that mean in terms of actual policy? Special correspondent Fred de Sam Lazaro reports.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/15/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	As the world anxiously awaits development of a vaccine for COVID-19, new and controversial research measures are being considered for the first time. These include the possibility of deliberately exposing volunteers to the disease to see if they are infected. Amna Nawaz reports on a growing group of people eager to be subjects in tests that might help to heal the world -- but harm themselves.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/16/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	The world's most populous nations, both nuclear powers, are locked in a deadly face-off over a contested border high in the Himalayas. Tensions in a decades-old dispute between China and India have boiled over recently, with 20 Indian soldiers dying under murky circumstances in the treacherous Galwan Valley. Stephanie Sy reports and talks to Alyssa Ayres of the Council on Foreign Relations.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/16/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	No part of the globe has been spared the effects of the novel coronavirus, with people in nearly every country becoming infected. Although the severity of cases varies widely, even those who know viruses the best can fall victim to its devastating effects. William Brangham talks to Dr. Peter Piot, who for decades led the global fight against HIV/AIDS, about his own experience with the illness.
CRIME/LEGAL	6/16/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	Before the killings of Rayshard Brooks in Atlanta and George Floyd in Minneapolis, another major city was angered by the death of a black American at the hands of police. Breonna Taylor was fatally shot in her own apartment in March by officers serving a drug warrant. They are currently on administrative leave. John Yang talks to Andrea Ritchie of the Barnard Center for Research on Women.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/16/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	Rayshard Brooks' shooting death at the hands of Atlanta police has added new fuel to the national conversation and protests over use of force. The encounter began calmly but escalated when officers tried to arrest Brooks for driving under the influence. Judy Woodruff talks to Georgetown University Law Center's Paul Butler and retired police officer David Thomas of Florida Gulf Coast University.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/17/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	In the three-plus weeks since George Floyd's death, the protests that began in Minneapolis over policing, race and the use of force have grown into a national reckoning on these issues. Some areas of the country with few black residents are experiencing Black Lives Matter demonstrations for the first time. Stephanie Sy reports on how the coalition has widened among different races and ethnicities.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/17/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	The U.S. is facing multiple competing and simultaneous challenges at home and abroad. How has the country dealt with similar periods in the past? Former defense secretary and CIA director Robert Gates has a deep familiarity with the topic. He joins Judy Woodruff to discuss that and his new book, "Exercise of Power: American Failures, Successes, and a new Path Forward in the Post-Cold War World."

CRIME/LEGAL	6/17/2020	6:00PM	12min	PBS NewsHour	News	Senate Republicans introduced their police reform bill Wednesday. Called the Justice Act, it includes grants for body cameras and incentives for police departments to ban chokeholds. It also increases disclosure requirements for no-knock warrants and the use of force. Yamiche Alcindor reports, and Sen. Tim Scott, who is leading the bill, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss why it's "an important step."
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/17/2020	7:00PM	26min	Black Issues Forum Special: Summer 2020 BLM Protest and the Road to Progress	Discussion	Entering the summer of 2020, the nation has been rocked by protesters taking to the streets to stand against enduring, systemic racial inequity and injustice. Host Deborah Holt Noel engages local businesswoman Valerie K. Fields, Social Justice Activist Kerwin Pittman, and NCSU Professor of Psychology Dr. Rupert Nacoste in exploring the question of how do we move from protest to progress.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/17/2020	7:30PM	26min	Focus on Coronavirus: PART 14	Discussion	DHHS Secretary Dr Mandy Cohen offers statewide viewers a weekly update on NC's battle to contain the spread of coronavirus. Tom Campbell hosts.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/18/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	The Supreme Court handed President Trump a major legal defeat Thursday, overturning his decision to end protections for immigrants who arrived in the United States illegally as children. Chief Justice John Roberts sided with his four consistently liberal colleagues and wrote the majority opinion, arguing the administration was "arbitrary and capricious" in ending DACA in 2017. John Yang reports.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	6/18/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	The staggering number of Americans seeking unemployment benefits underscores just how many are struggling financially due to the pandemic. While the economic damage from shuttering businesses and staying home is undeniable, public health experts worry that the pressure to reopen will end up driving the spread of COVID-19. Paul Solman reports on weighing the economic and safety risks.

LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/18/2020	6:00PM	11min	PBS NewsHour	News	Fallout continues from the forthcoming book by John Bolton, a former national security adviser to President Trump. Bolton portrays Trump as corrupt, self-interested and in thrall to authoritarian figures like Russian President Vladimir Putin and Chinese President Xi Jinping. Yamiche Alcindor reports and Nick Schifrin gets reaction from two former ambassadors, Gérard Araud and John Negroponte.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/19/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	The past several weeks have been tumultuous ones for American race relations. Between a pandemic disproportionately affecting Black people and new incidents of police violence, Juneteenth has taken on increased public prominence. Yamiche Alcindor talks to Mark Anthony Neal, professor of African and African American Studies at Duke University, about this unique moment -- and hope for change.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/19/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	As several states experience surges in COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations, the debate over wearing face masks is creating a sharp divide. Nearly everyone in the public health community says masks worn in crowded places can help slow coronavirus spread -- but for some Americans, they are perceived as an affront. William Brangham reports and talks to Dr. Ranit Mishori of Georgetown University.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/19/2020	7:30PM	26min	NC Spin	Discussion	North Carolina is under siege from many fronts and this week's NC Spin discusses them. We begin by asking if we have truly lost the Republican convention. We talk about protests, riots and looting in our communities and examine week two of Phase Two reopening from COVID-19 and talk about how we are responding.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/19/2020	8:30PM	26min	Front Row with Marc Rotterman	Discussion	This week on Front Row w/ Marc Rotterman...civil unrest spreads across America, a report on medicaid costs and the RNC pulls their convention out of Charlotte. On the panel this week is Mitch Kokai of the Carolina Journal, Former Democratic House Representative Ed Hanes, Jonah Kaplan the Senior Political Reporter for ABC News 11 and Communications Consultant Donna King.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/22/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	Although the coronavirus pandemic presents unprecedented challenges for people living through it, humans have endured similar health ordeals in the past. Jeffrey Brown speaks to two historians, Frank Snowden of Yale University and Nancy Bristow of the University of Puget Sound, about how previous pandemics have shaped societies. It's part of our ongoing arts and culture series, Canvas.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/22/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	Georgia experienced major problems with its voting processes during a primary election earlier in June. People waited in line up to eight hours to cast ballots, and poll workers struggled with new machines on which they hadn't been trained due to the pandemic. What do Georgia's election issues mean for other state primaries -- and for American democracy more broadly? Miles O'Brien reports.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/22/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	As states continue to lift pandemic restrictions and allow economic activity to resume, many are seeing new surges in coronavirus cases. Arkansas has documented more than 3,500 new positive tests since it began the second phase of its reopening. Arkansas Gov. Asa Hutchinson joins Judy Woodruff to discuss where the increase in cases is coming from and his thoughts on moving Confederate monuments.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/22/2020	6:00PM	10min	PBS NewsHour	News	The World Health Organization says Sunday marked the largest global daily surge in new coronavirus cases since the pandemic began: 183,000. In the U.S., daily fatalities from the disease have dropped since the initial peak this spring, but more than 600 people are still dying each day. Amna Nawaz reports and talks to Stephen Morrison of the Center for Strategic and International Studies.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/23/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	As the country faces a moment of reckoning about its treatment of Black Americans and other people of color, the display of memorials, monuments and statues is being reexamined. Some of these symbols are being torn down by protesters, and others removed by authorities or relocated. But what is the historical context behind their origin? Jeffrey Brown reports for our Race Matters coverage.

EDUCATION	6/23/2020	6:00PM	8min	PBS NewsHour	News	Distance learning proved a difficult experiment for many students, teachers and parents this year. Its urgent adoption underscored gaps in access and income. Now, school districts are scrambling to figure out how to adjust plans for the fall. We hear from viewers about their own school experiences, and William Brangham talks to Mark Bedell, superintendent of Missouri's Kansas City Public Schools.
MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/23/2020	6:00PM	12min	PBS NewsHour	News	The debate over physical symbols of the Confederacy has evolved into a broader one about U.S. history. Judy Woodruff talks to Peniel Joseph, professor at the University of Texas at Austin, W. Fitzhugh Brundage, professor at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Arielle Hudson, one of six students who petitioned the University of Mississippi to relocate a campus Confederate statue.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/24/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Many U.S. meatpacking plants shut down this spring due to coronavirus outbreaks. Nationwide, more than 27,000 workers have become infected, and nearly 100 have died. But in late April, President Trump ordered the facilities to stay open, deeming them critical to preserving the nation's meat supply. Special correspondent Fred de Sam Lazaro reports on the experiences of some of these workers.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/24/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	The House Judiciary Committee held a hearing Wednesday on whether the federal agency tasked with enforcing the law is in fact breaking it. Two current Justice Department attorneys charged that department leaders -- including Attorney General William Barr -- ordered certain investigations and undermined others due to political motivations. Lisa Desjardins reports and talks to NPR's Carrie Johnson.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/24/2020	6:00PM	9min	PBS NewsHour	News	The GOP version of a police reform bill stalled in the Senate Wednesday, after Democrats said it didn't go far enough. Oklahoma Sen. James Lankford, one of the Republicans who worked on the bill, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss his "great frustration" that the legislation won't move forward, its specific provisions regarding chokeholds and qualified immunity and the rise of COVID-19 in his state.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/25/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	The surge of new coronavirus infections is spreading wider and faster across the country, with 29 states reporting notable increases in cases. The head of the CDC also said it's believed that at least 23 million Americans have been infected, which is 10 times higher than the number of confirmed cases. Amna Nawaz talks to Dr. Ashish Jha about how state officials can get control of their outbreaks.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	6/25/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	During the pandemic, Americans have replaced dining out with take-out and delivery meals. As a result, more customers and restaurants are relying on apps like Grubhub and Uber Eats to transport food. But restaurants say the apps consume their profits, customers find delivery fees too high and drivers can't earn a living wage. So what is the business model's viability? Paul Solman reports.
CRIME/LEGAL	6/25/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	House Democrats are set to pass a comprehensive police reform bill. Led by the Congressional Black Caucus, the measure would create a ban on some police practices, such as chokeholds and the use of no-knock warrants in federal drug cases. It would also make it easier to punish officers for misconduct. Lisa Desjardins reports and talks to Rep. Karen Bass, D-Calif., who chairs the caucus.
COMMUNITY	6/25/2020	10:00PM	26min	New Bern Spirit of Freedom	Story Feature	Historians Earl Ijames and David Cecelski reveal the leadership and courage that New Bern NC's African American community played in the creation of the Emancipation Proclamation.
CRIME/LEGAL	6/26/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	Protests against racial injustice and police violence have dominated the American national conversation in recent weeks, but there are also major concerns about racial disparities in the impact of the coronavirus pandemic. For the White House view on these topics, Yamiche Alcindor turns to Ja'Ron Smith, deputy assistant to President Trump and deputy director of the Office of American Innovation.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/26/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	The epicenter of the coronavirus in the U.S. appears to be shifting south and west, with some states that were among the first to reopen, like Arizona, experiencing a surge of cases. As officials renew efforts to slow the virus' spread, however, they are encountering some resistance. Stephanie Sy reports.

MINORITIES/CIVIL RIGHTS	6/26/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	As the Black Lives Matter movement strengthens nationwide, calls are increasing for equity in all sectors of American life -- including on Broadway. An all-star cast of Black theater artists has launched a new effort, Black Theatre United, that aims to elevate Black voices within the arts and beyond. Jeffrey Brown reports for our ongoing coverage of Race Matters and arts and culture, Canvas.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/26/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	The fate of the Affordable Care Act, often referred to as Obamacare, is on the line again. The Trump administration has filed a brief with the Supreme Court arguing the law, through which 23 million Americans get health insurance, is unconstitutional. Judy Woodruff talks to Andy Slavitt, former acting administrator of the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services, about the law's sweeping reach.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/26/2020	7:30PM	26min	NC Spin	Discussion	Our panel talks about moves being taken in response to racial violence and ask if things might actually change. The we ask whether the new guidelines for opening our schools will ensure our children's safety.
ECONOMY/BUSINESS	6/26/2020	8:30PM	26min	Front Row with Marc Rotterman	Discussion	This week on Front Row w/ Marc Rotterman...a conversation with Robert Costa the Moderator of Washington Week and the panelists discuss NC DOT & Ace Speedway. On the panel this week is Communications Consultant Donna King, Nelson Dollar the Senior Adviser to the NC Speaker of the House and Democratic State Senator Mike Woodard.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/29/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	Reports that Russia offered bounties to Taliban fighters to kill American troops in Afghanistan have caused uproar on Capitol Hill. The highest-ranking Republican on the House Armed Services Committee, Rep. Mac Thornberry of Texas, joins Judy Woodruff to discuss what lawmakers heard at Monday's intelligence briefing and how the U.S. should respond if the reports are true.

SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/29/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	The United States is struggling to hold back the coronavirus. More than 30 states are reporting a rise in infections, and several are now reconsidering their plans to loosen restrictions and reopen economic activities. William Brangham talks to Dr. Tom Frieden, who previously led the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and now heads a global health initiative called Resolve to Save Lives.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/30/2020	6:00PM	5min	PBS NewsHour	News	In the U.S., some states that reopened their economies early are now reversing course as the virus surges back, sickening thousands and filling hospitals to capacity. Arizona's governor has ordered gyms, bars and other businesses to close again after reopening them in the middle of May. William Brangham talks to Will Humble, executive director of the Arizona Public Health Association.
LOCAL & NATIONAL POLITICS/GOVERNMENT	6/30/2020	6:00PM	6min	PBS NewsHour	News	The NewsHour has reported that Russian military intelligence provided financial incentives to the Taliban to kill U.S. troops in Afghanistan -- and that this intelligence was always briefed up to senior U.S. government officials. But the White House say President Trump was unaware of the possible Russian bounty payments. Nick Schifrin talks to Douglas London, who had a 34-year career in the CIA.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/30/2020	6:00PM	7min	PBS NewsHour	News	The ventilator has been a vital piece of medical machinery in treating some of the most severe COVID-19 patients. But the devices were hard to come by and expensive at the beginning of the pandemic, prompting a group of residents at Massachusetts General Hospital to start the CoVent-19 Challenge to design a cheaper, easy-to-assemble model. John Yang reports on the innovative ideas it inspired.
SCIENCE/HEALTH/HEALTHCARE	6/30/2020	6:00PM	13min	PBS NewsHour	News	As the coronavirus pandemic continues, many Americans are calling on Congress to provide a new economic relief package. House Speaker Nancy Pelosi joins Judy Woodruff to discuss how to stimulate the U.S. economy and contain the virus outbreak, her take on reports Russia paid the Taliban bounties to kill U.S. troops and where congressional negotiations stand on passing police reform legislation.