

Issue	Date	Time Aired	Duration	Show	Segment Title	Description
			15	Morning Amp	Covers For Cover f	Mia Park is the long-time host of children's dance TV show Chic-a-Go-Go. She is also the organizer of an annual benefit concert Covers For Cover. This year, the show will take place on Friday, 12/11 at Schubas and will fundraise for women's domestic violence shelter with a rock show.
Community	12/10/2015
			60	Barber Shop Show	Barber Shop Show 242: Listening In	On this installment of the Barber Shop Show, Chicago based musician and storyteller Shanta Nurullah joined host Richard Steele. Shanta is a member of the AACM (Association for the Advancement of Creative Musicians). She also teaches Wiggleworms classes for young children at the Old Town School of Folk Music. She told us about how she became the "sister with the sitar".
Arts	12/4/2015
			15	Morning Amp	Personal Finance for Youth with Moneythink	Ted Gonder is the Co-Founder and CEO of Moneythink, a company looking to build the financial health of American by equipping youth and young adults to believe in themselves, to navigate the financial decisions of adulthood, and to achieve financial independence. Ted joined Jesse and Jill on The Morning Amp to talk about everyone's favorite topic - finance.
Economy	12/4/2015
			15	Morning Amp	Marshall Square Resource Network shines light on Chicago's lesser known neighborhood	Chicago's Marshall Square is located North/South by 16th and 31st streets and East/West by Western and Kedzie avenues. The Marshall Square Resource Network initiated by Latinos Progresando represents a broad spectrum of agencies that meet monthly to build the capacity of member agencies to organize for community change. Luis Gutierrez, Executive Director of Latinos Progresando and Omar Magana, Executive Director of Open Center For The Arts joined us on PeaceCouncil to talk about Marshall Square Resource Network and its initiatives.
Community	12/3/2015

Economy	12/3/2015	15	Morning Amp	Surpassing Employment Barriers Through Farming at Growing Home	Growing Home is the leading expert in farm-based training for people with employment barriers. The community farming program is based in Chicago's Englewood neighborhood and aims to help people find careers through skills learned while farming. Outreach Program Coordinator, Kristin Miodonski joined us on The Morning AMp to talk about their initiatives.
Economy	11/30/2015	60	Practically Speaking	Practically Speaking 64: Youth Homelessness	Did you know that children aged 12-17 are more at risk of homelessness than adults? In this installment of Practically Speaking, host Audra Wilson explores issues facing youth who are struggling with homelessness (both in urban and suburban settings). She also digs into the successes and failures of the federal McKinney-Vento act. The legislation requires that school districts be pro-active in finding homeless children who are not attending school.
Arts	11/27/2015	60	Barber Shop Show	Barber Shop Show 241: The State of Chicago Soul Today	Like so many American cities, Chicago has a particular brand of Soul music. Artists like Curtis Mayfield and Gene Chandler helped pave the way in the 1960s and 1970s, but where is that sound today?
Health	11/20/2015	15	Morning Amp	Dr. Amy Ho on "Frequent Flier" Addicts in the ER	Dr. Amy Ho regularly treats addicts who are admitted to the Emergency Room over and over again for being too intoxicated. With so few resources to offer to frequent ER patients, Dr. Ho believes hospital visits may even enable addicts to keep drinking. In her Chicago Tribune Commentary, Dr. Ho said, "With the emergency room so often just the purgatory between drinks for alcoholics, few emergency departments are actually equipped to offer these addicts the help they need beyond their acute intoxication."
Health	11/12/2015	40	Morning Amp	Peace Council - Diabetes Awareness Month	November is Diabetes Awareness Month and today on the AMp we delved into the nature of the illness, its signs, the differences between Type 1 and 2, and ways to test if you're at risk.

Education	11/12/2015	15	Morning A mp	Brielle Siskin and Matt Fasana discuss the Peace Room at Sullivan High School	Brielle Siskin and Matt Fasana discuss the Sullivan High School Peace Room, a safe space for students and staff to build relationships and community, and resolve interpersonal conflict.
Community	11/5/2015	40	Morning A mp	Colin Bird and Angela Becker Serrano talk about Hermosa Neighborhood Association	On Peace Prize Thursday, the Peace Council meet with Colin Bird and Angela Becker Serrano to discuss issues within their neighborhood, the Hermosa community, the City of Chicago's General Budget, relief for low and middle class homeowners from property tax increase and more.
Community	11/2/2015	15	Morning A mp	Chili For a Good Cause: The Arts of Life to Host All-You-Can-Eat Fundraiser	The Arts of Life is an art studio for adults with disabilities. The annual Chili Cookoff fundraiser will take place this Saturday, November 7 from 5-7pm. Advance tickets are $20, which includes all-you-can-eat chili and gelato, two complimentary drinks, and live entertainment.
Race	10/30/2015	60	Barber Shop Show	Barber Shop Show 237: The Black Man and His Beard	It's no secret that there is something about a beard that exudes power and masculinity. Black men in particular have several styles of beards to choose from that are becoming extremely popular. According to Lenox Magee, "It's an echo of that '70s moment when Afros... migrated from the South to the crew-cut turf of the North."
Arts	10/30/2015	15	Morning A mp	Dia De Los Muertos Celebration to be held at the National Museum of Mexican Art	Eric Garcia from the National Museum of Mexican Art talks on Day of the Dead being appropriated as Halloween and the plethora of free activities that will be open to the public in celebration of the deceased on Sunday, November 1 at the museum.

Technology	10/23/2015	15	Morning Amp	Fabian Elliott Dreams of Transforming Chicago into a Global Black Technology Mecca	Black Tech Mecca founder Fabian Elliott has a vision to transform Chicago into the “Global Black Tech Mecca” by creating a world class black tech ecosystem that cultivates innovation, commerce, and economic prosperity.
Arts	10/22/2015	15	Morning Amp	Milton Coronado discuss his graffiti project for Pilsen's youth called Street Art Ministry	Milton Coronado discuss his youth, family life and inspirations. He talks about what drew him to art, how he started and how got to where he is today. Coronado talks about his graffiti project for Pilsen’s youth called Street Art Ministry.
Arts	10/22/2015	15	Morning Amp	Rob, Doug and Lili discuss their concert "Four Women" and how it represents racial unrest in 2015	Rob Lindley, Doug Peck and Lili Anne Brown discuss the story of Four Women on a year-long journey. By exploring the lives, journey and music of Josephine Baker, Eartha Kitt, Nina Simone, and Tina Turner, they display and represent the tremendous racial unrest that our nation was (and still is) experiencing. The theme for this concert is dedicated to African-American female singers who became an expatriate for one reason or another. The title “Four Women” is from the Nina Simone song of the same name.
History	10/20/2015	15	Morning Amp	Historian and author Sarah Vowell discusses how Marquis de Lafayette helped The American Revolution	Historian and best-selling author Sarah Vowell joined Jesse and Jill on The Morning AMP to talk about her book “Lafayette in the Somewhat United States,” and what role the famous French Marquis played in the American Revolutionary War.

Social Justice	10/16/2015	15	Morning A mp	Carmen Perez speaks on Black Lives Matter movement, slacktivism, and criminal reform	Carmen Perez, is the Executive Director of The Gathering for Justice and Co-Founder of Justice League NYC. She is in town for Chicago Ideas Week where she will speak on the subjects of American justice system, slacktivism, and building alternatives to violence and incarceration. She joined us in studio to talk about her organization and her work as a social justice activist.
Technology	10/14/2015	15	Morning A mp	Alex Rice discusses misconceptions about hacking within companies and individual online security	Rice works for HackerOne and spoke at Chicago Ideas week. He spoke about "Cybersecurity: It's Time to Update Your Password...Again"
Arts	10/1/2015	15	Morning A mp	David Weinberg discusses photography themes: youth incarceration, conservation and trans identity	Dave is opening art exhibits that partner with nonprofit organizations to spark conversations about their mission. Themes of art exhibits include youth incarceration, conservation, and trans identity. For example, one of his past projects examined the juvenile justice system and partnered with the American Civil Liberties Union of Illinois.