

Issue	Date	Time Aired	Duration	Show	Segment Title	Description
Feminism	9/30/2015		15	Morning A mp	The Council of Fe minist Thought di scusses rape cultu re on college cam puses and planne d parenthood	The Council of Feminist Thought meets with guests Olivia Ortiz and Veroni ca Arreola and hosts Jill Hopkins and Jesse Menendez to discuss rape cultu re within college campuses as well as the Congressional hearing regarding Planned Parenthood. Olivia is a student activist for rape culture on college campuses. She leads the controversial Clothesline Project at U of Chicago t o give voices to those who suffer from sexual assault.
Race	9/25/2015		60	Barber Sho p Show	Barber Shop Show 232: Missing Child ren of Color	The remains of a toddler were recently discovered in a Garfield Park lagoo n. The identity of the child is still unknown. In light of this tragic discovery, we discuss the issue of missing children of color in the Chicago Area.
Race	9/24/2015		40	Morning A mp	Ricardo Gamboa a nd Jimmy Guzman talk about what it means to be mexi can and a minorit y	Jill Hopkins and Jesse Menendez talk with Ricardo Gamboa and Jimmy Guz man in the studio for Peace Prize Thursday in the peace council. The peac e council talks about what it means to be a mexican and a minority in toda y's shifting society.
Race	9/17/2015		15	Morning A mp	On Two Fronts: Ex amining Latino Ex perience During T he Vietnam War	On Two Fronts: Latinos & Vietnam captures a complex aspect of the Vietm an War - the legacy of Latino veterans and their families during the conflic t. The documentary takes a comprehensive look at pivotal events on both, the home front and the battle front, painting a vivid portrait of Latino Ame ricans during tumultuous time. The film's director and producer Mylène Mo reno joined Jesse Menendez on the line to talk about the documentary.

Arts	9/17/2015	15	Morning Amp	EXPO Chicago brings 140 galleries from around the world to the city	Entering its 4th edition in 2015, EXPO Chicago presents artwork from 140 leading galleries representing 16 countries and 47 cities around the world. EXPO Chicago takes place Sept. 17 - 20th at Navy Pier. President and Director of the art fair, Tony Karman, joined Jesse Menendez on The Morning Amp to talk about the event, and what we can expect to see this year.
Education	9/4/2015	60	Barber Shop Show	Barber Shop Show 229: Education Roundtable	It's back to school time, so we gathered a roundtable of reporters to help us unpack some of the biggest recent education stories. From the Dyett High School hunger strike to the ongoing evolution of the school system in New Orleans, host Richard Steele discusses the education-related stories that caught our attention.
Community	8/28/2015	60	Barber Shop Show	Barber Shop Show 228: Stories that stuck with us	On this installment of the Barber Shop Show, host Richard Steele looked back on some of the stories that have stuck with us. From the saga of the Henry Horner Homes (with The Chicago Reporter's Jonah Newman) to tales of economic development on the South Side (with the Chicago Reporter's Ade Emmanuel), we heard about changes in our communities. Then, we revisited a conversation about some black historical figures whose careers intersected with the world of popular music. For that conversation, Richard sat down with Reclaimed Soul's Ayana Contreras.
Arts	8/28/2015	15	Morning Amp	Playwright Marianna Staroselsky talks vampires and her new play "Identity Quickies"	Marianna Staroselsky is the writer and producer of Identity Quickies, "a series of one act plays for your soul in existential crisis." She joined Jesse and Jill on The Morning AMP to talk about the play, which runs 9/3 - 9/13 at Jefferson Playhouse as part of Chicago Fringe Festival.

Technology	8/18/2015	15	Morning A mp	Sophie Kleeman: I ssues in the Fight Against Child Porn ography	Sophie Kleeman's recent article on mic.com revealed some of the issues w ith Google and Facebook's new plan to wipe out child pornography from th e internet. She discusses the unattended problems and more with Jesse an d Jill.
Race	8/18/2015	15	Morning A mp	Odette Yousef: "W here are the poor white neighborho ods?"	Odette Yousef from WBEZ's Curious City is in the studio to talk about her s tory on poverty and racial segregation in Chicago neighborhoods.
Arts	8/14/2016	60	Barber Sho p Show	Barber Shop Show 226: Men of Soul	On this week's Barber Shop Show, host Richard Steele talked about the Bl ack Ensemble Theater's current production of Men of Soul, playing throug h August 31st. The play showcases the stories and music of male soul sing ers. We were joined at the shop by a few members of the cast of Men of S oul
Social Justice	8/11/2015	40	Morning A mp	Ferguson Controv ersy Rekindles	On the one year anniversary of the killing of Michael Brown in Ferguson, th e town is once again thrown into tumult and controversy. Several proteste rs have been arrested for blocking major roadways and government buildi ngs; meanwhile, a militant group called the Oath Keepers have moved into the city with weapons to "ensure that the government does not enforce m arshal law." Longtime listener and contributor Lorell calls in after returni ng from Ferguson over the weekend and offers her first-person perspective.
Education	8/10/2015	15	Morning A mp	Becky Vevea talks about school distri cts struggle to hel p teachers	WBEZ's education reporter Becky Vevea joins Jesse and Jill to talk about h er latest article "Study: School districts don't know how to help teachers"

Arts	8/7/2015	60	Barber Shop Show	Barber Shop Show 225: The 26th African Festival of the Arts	On this week's Barber Shop Show, host Richard Steele talked about the 26th African Festival of the Arts, which will take place in Washington Park on Chicago's South Side. We got a forecast of that event
Health	8/7/2015	15	Morning Amp	HIV Research and Education with IMARA, Interview with Dr. Geri Donenberg	Dr. Geri Donenberg directs the Community Outreach Intervention Projects (COIP) and the Healthy Youths Program (HYP) at the University of Illinois at Chicago. In 2010, African American women accounted for 29% of the estimated new HI
Feminism	8/5/2015	40	Morning Amp	Author Robert Buettner and the Council of Feminist Thought	National bestselling author Robert Buettner is in the studio to talk about his books and how female characters create gendered expectations in the media (his link is below). Melissa Ferguson also joins Jesse and Jill in the studio to talk about female superheroes, Ronda Rousey, and confidence.
Race	8/5/2015	15	Morning Amp	Dr. Karin Anderson- Single is the New Black	Psychologist, speaker, and author Dr. Karin Anderson joins Jesse and Jill this morning on The Morning Amp. As she reveals, her new book, Single is the New Black, "challenges lame clichés and bogus explanations we repeatedly field when friends and family weigh in concerning our singleness."
Race	7/31/2015	60	Practically Speaking	Practically Speaking 62: Twisted, Burt Ashe's Dreadlock Chronicles	Host Audra Wilson talks to Burt Ashe about his new book, "Twisted: My Dreadlock Chronicles". They talk about how black hairstyles like dreadlocks 'resist identical co-optation', and about how perceptions about dreadlocks have changed over the years. They also talk about the artistry and the politics of black hair.
Arts	7/31/2015	60	Barber Shop Show	Barber Shop Show 224: 2015 Black Harvest Film Festival	This week, host Richard Steele talked about the annual Black Harvest Film Festival, which runs from August 8th through September 3rd at the Gene Siskel Film Center

Economy	7/24/2015	60	Barber Shop Show	Barber Shop Show 223: Chicago's Untapped Economic Opportunity	This week, Richard talked about economic development in our communities. For this conversation, we were joined by: Ade Emmanuel, investigative journalist with the Chicago Reporter, As well as business owner: Becker Muzau. He is a Haitian immigrant running a computer repair business in Woodlawn.
Arts	7/24/2015	15	Morning Amp	Editorial team from Arts.Black talk art from a black perspective	Taylor Renee and Jessica Lynne of Arts.Black talk with Jesse and Jill about art from a Black perspective and the controversial Ti-Rock Moore exhibit.
Social Justice	7/23/2016	40	Morning Amp	Jill Hopkins, Jesse Menendez, and Dr. Coya Paz Discuss Sandra Bland	Dr. Coya Paz is the Artistic Director of Free Street Theater and an Assistant Professor at DePaul University. She's also our resident cultural commentator and today she joins us to discuss the controversy surrounding the death of Sandra Bland and how one should interact with law enforcement during traffic stops.
Arts	7/16/2015	15	Morning Amp	"Stand Up And Debate" Sam Norton & Sammy Jarroush	Sam Norton and Sammy Jarroush talk about their new series "Stand-up and Debate" a combination of stand-up comedy and debate on social issues such as racism.
Economy	7/2/2015	15	Morning Amp	Impact of the $634 mil CPS Pension Payment and the IL Budget	WBEZ's State of Illinois reporter Tony Arnold talks with The Morning Amp about the convoluted politics surrounding the delayed passing of an Illinois budget and Chicago's 11th hour $634 million payment to the CPS pension plan. They also discuss the political posturing and the impact on schools.
Arts	7/2/2015	60	Barber Shop Show	Barber Shop Show 221: Soulful Freedom and Patriotic Songs	In this installment of the Barber Shop Show, host Richard Steele sat down with Ayana Contreras of Reclaimed Soul. In honor of Independence Day, they talked about soulful music that features themes of protest and freedom. They also talked about soulful music with themes of patriotism...

Arts	7/1/2015	15	Morning A mp	K Flay talks Life A s A Dog, Feminis m and her relatio nship with her fat her	California-based rapper and musician K Flay is currently on tour in support of her album Life As A Dog. She made some time for Vocalo to talk about the evolution of her sound, her thoughts on Feminism, and the role her father plays in her music.
------	----------	----	-----------------	---	---