

WTMD-FM Quarterly Public File Issues Report

DATE PLACED	DATE COVERED
	First Quarter of Second Quarter of Third Quarter of
1/9/24	Fourth Quarter of 2023

GM, PD, or OM Signature

Megan S. Amoss, Asst. Chief Engineer

1/9/24

ARTS, ENTERTAINMENT, SPORTS	10/30/2023	9am hr	11 min	Morning Show	World Audio Drama Day. 85th anniversary of Orson Welles Mercury Players infamous 'War of the Worlds' radio play that caused near panic when listeners believed the simulated news bulletins about a Martian invasion of New Jersey.
ARTS, ENTERTAINMENT, SPORTS	11/8/2023	9am hr	5 min	Morning Show	A recognition of writers everywhere on the 400th anniversary of the publication of Shakespeare's First folio.
ARTS, ENTERTAINMENT, SPORTS	12/5/2023	7am hr	5 min	Morning Show	A review of the important new Little Richard documentary film, I Am Everything, that tells the story of the Black queer origins of rock n' roll.
ARTS, ENTERTAINMENT, SPORTS	11/05/23	7am hr	8 min	On The Record	A Stoop Story from Jeffrey Kent, artist and curator-in-Residence at
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	10/19/2023	8am hr	7 min	Morning Show	A celebration of Baltimore gay icon, Divine (born Harris Glen Milstead), the outre cross-dressing star of many John Waters films.
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	11/29/2023	9am hr	3 min	Morning Show	TMD Banner Bulletin. This episode with Baltimore Banner Editor-In-Chief Kimi Yoshino described Baltimore's international markets.
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	12/4/2023	8am hr	8 min	Morning Show	An appreciation of Baltimore born musician and composer Frank Zappa (on the 30th anniversary of his death).
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	10/1	6pm hr	4 min	Detour	Local music: D.T. Huber
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	10/8/2023	6pm hr	8 min	Detour	Local music: The Manly Deeds, Golden Aster
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	10/15/2023	5pm hr	4 min	Detour	Local music: D.T. Huber w/Susan Alcorn
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	10/22/2023	5-7pm	8 min	Detour	Local music: The Old Part of Town, SONiA disappear fear
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	10/29/2023	5pm hr	4 min	Detour	Local music: Golden Aster
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	11/5/2023	5pm hr	4 min	Detour	Local music: SONiA disappear fear
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	11/26/2023	6pm hr	4 min	Detour	Local music: Golden Aster
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	12/17/2023	6pm hr	4 min	Detour	Local music: Golden Aster
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	10/22/23	7am hr	10 min	On The Record	A ghostly Stoop Story from Sean MacDonald.
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	10/29/23	7 am hr	18.5 min	On The Record	Baltimore illustrator assembles "The League of Lady Poisoners". A new book explores a league of dangerous women through history. Lisa Perrin, professor in the illustration department at the Maryland Institute College of Art, wrote and illustrated The League of Lady Poisoners. The elegantly illustrated book is about women known for poisoning people throughout history. In addition to her work as an illustrator, she is an award-winning designer, entrepreneur and educator. Her work has been recognized by The Society of Illustrators, American Illustration, 3 by 3 Magazine and Print Magazine.

BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	11/12/23	7am hr	13.5 min	On The Record	Burlesque performances are lively experiences often featuring jazzy, sultry music, flashy costumes and bawdy striptease. And now you too can climb on stage and learn how to perform burlesque. Local burlesque performer Jacqueline Boxx, an instructor with Essential Tease, is here to talk about the art of burlesque and the classes she helped design to introduce newcomers to the performance style. Find more information about registration for Spring 2024 classes, including scholarships and the upcoming ticket releases, on their website..
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	12/10/23	7am hr	15.5 min	On The Record	The Lights Went Out Because of a Problem': A three-act opera about learning to sing and a lot else: meditating, hanging out, goofing off, healing from trauma and the pandemic. We ask the experimental theater company The Acme Corporation's artistic director Lola B. Pierson about their first show in three years. And composer Allison Clendaniel talks about scoring the show - with music, song and found sounds.
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND ARTS	11/19/23	7am hr	24.5 min	On The Record	"Maryland Poet Laureate Lucille Clifton inspires local dance company" A new collaboration weaves together the artistry of a local modern dance company and the pithy lyricism of Maryland's former poet laureate. This weekend will see the premiere of "And Still, We Dream," by Full Circle Dance Company. The show's centerpiece is inspired by the work of the late Maryland Poet Laureate and Baltimore resident Lucille Clifton. We speak with Donna Jacobs, the founder and artistic director of Full Circle Dance Company, and Sidney Clifton, the daughter of Lucille Clifton and founder of The Clifton House, a space for emerging writers, artists, and activists. Full Circle Dance Company will present "And Still, We Dream," this Saturday at 7:30 pm and Sunday at 2:30 pm at the Baltimore Theatre Project.
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND HISTORY AND HERITAGE	11/1/2023	8am hr	6 min	Morning Show	Seabiscuit Defeats War Admiral. One of the greatest horse races in history - and one of the most anticipated sporting events of the era - a match race at Pimlico Race Course in 1938 between the then-reigning Triple Crown winner War Admiral and 'The Biscuit'.

BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND HISTORY AND HERITAGE	10/08/23	7am hr	26.5 min	On The Record	Two new books bridge the years since the Civil War. Steve Inskeep, cohost of NPR's Morning Edition, writes of the cunning and affability of Abraham Lincoln. Avoiding the well-tread ground of Lincoln's story, Inskeep instead writes of the President's relationships with friends and family, critics and rivals. The book, Inskeep's fourth, is called In Differ We Must: How Lincoln Succeeded in a Divided America . Then, historian Scott Hartwig leads us onto battlefield during the bloodiest day in American history. Hartwig investigated the Maryland Campaign of the Civil War for decades. He worked in the National Park Service for 34 years as an interpretive ranger, and was supervisory historian at Gettysburg National Military Park. His book is I Dread the Thought of the Place: The Battle of Antietam and the End of the Maryland Campaign .
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND HISTORY AND HERITAGE	10/15/23	7am hr	14 min	On The Record	White Potato pie, stuffed ham, blintzes, oyster stew! 'Festive Maryland Recipes: Holiday traditions from the Old Line State' mixes food with colorful graphics and stories to create a celebration of yesteryear. Author Kara Mae Harris gives us a taste!
BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND HISTORY AND HERITAGE	10/22/23	7 am hr	26 min	On The Record	Many people only see a crime-ridden, violent version of Baltimore City. We hear from photographer J.M. Giordano and Baltimore Peace Movement co-founder Letrice Gant, who are dedicated to helping citizens understand and embrace the truth: there is much more at work than that same old narrative. Links: Baltimore Peace Movement, Peace Weekend Nov. 3-5, Sat. 10.21 Lost Weekend Book fest talk for '13 to 23: How a Summer of Violence Led to a Decade of Activism.'

BALTIMORE AND MARYLAND HISTORY AND HERITAGE	10/29/23	7 am hr	26:00:00	On The Record	Pass the Mic: Teaching the truth about African American history and culture. Why has teaching African American history become politicized -- and what must be done to make sure the true stories are told? Today we 'Pass the Mic' to Terri Freeman, head of the Reginald F. Lewis Museum of Maryland African American History and Culture. She asks Dr. Edwin T. Johnson Chairman of the Maryland Commission on African American History and Culture and historian and archivist at Morgan State University, about the role cultural institutions play in correcting the rampant inaccuracies about African American history. Then spoken word artist Lady Brion recounts West Baltimore's Pennsylvania Avenue famous past and offers an update on the Pennsylvania Avenue Black Arts and Entertainment District, for which she is executive director. Links: Reginald F. Lewis Museum of Maryland African American History and Culture. Maryland Commission on African American History and Culture, Pennsylvania Avenue, Black Arts and Entertainment District, Banneker-Douglass Museum, National Museum of African American History and Culture.
BUSINESS, ECONOMICS, FINANCE	10/15/23	7 am hr	12 min	On The Record	A Stoop Story from Gertrude's Restaurant co-founder Chef John Shields about the courage of blazing your path but then following the detour that delivers your dreams.
BUSINESS, ECONOMICS, FINANCE	12/10/23	7am hr	26 min	On The Record	The future of historic preservation depends on apprenticeships. From rowhomes in Baltimore to tobacco barns in Southern Maryland, the survival of historic buildings depends on training the next generation of masons, carpenters, and roofers. We speak with preservationists and business owners, and hear about a national initiative to promote jobs in the historic trades. Guests: Nicholas Redding, president and CEO of Preservation Maryland and The Campaign for Historic Trades. Natalie Henshaw, director of The Campaign for Historic Trades and the owner of Henshaw Preservation, a window restoration and historic masonry company. Darius Johnson, who is pursuing a graduate degree in preservation at Goucher College in Baltimore County. Mae Bowley, executive director of Re:Purpose Savannah, a nonprofit focused on the salvage and reuse of historic buildings

EDUCATION	12/3/23	7am hr	25 min	On The Record	What does Maryland's pre-K expansion mean for the child care industry? The state's massive education reform package - the Blueprint for Maryland's Future - lays out a plan to expand free pre-kindergarten to low-income families. How will school systems and private childcare providers work together? We speak with Jennifer Lynch, a member of the Blueprint's Accountability & Implementation Board, and Chris Peusch, executive director of the Maryland State Child Care Association. Links: The State of Preschool 2022 - The National Institute for Early Education Research, Breaking down the Blueprint: Major changes ahead as Maryland plans dramatic expansion of early childhood education, Blueprint Pillar 1: Early Childhood Education, Blueprint for Maryland's Future: Prekindergarten Implementation Planning, Prekindergarten Expansion and Improvements
FAMILY AND CHILDREN'S PROGRAMMING	10/22/23	7am hr	16.5 min	On The Record	Evie Archer is the new girl in town, and her aging home holds a dark secret. We ask Frederick author Michelle JabèsCorpora: will spirits from beyond help Evie solve a decades-old mystery ... or claim her as their next victim? This supernatural thriller for teens is titled, " Holly Horror."
HEALTH, MENTAL HEALTH, MEDICINE	10/2/2023	8am hr	10 min	Morning Show	Blue Shirt Day: World Day of Bullying Prevention. Acknowledgment of this important initiative to address and prevent bullying and cyberbullying to protect our young people.
HEALTH, MENTAL HEALTH, MEDICINE	10/08/23	7am hr	17 min	On The Record	In 2015, artist Marcy Marxer got a call from her doctor. Marxer had breast cancer. The ups and downs of treatment, recovery, plus a lot of funny stuff in between, are captured in a new production called All Wiggled Out: The Musical. Marxer and her wife and musical accomplice Cathy Fink take a candid, humorous and lyrical approach to the story of diagnosis, treatment and recovery. The pair are Grammy Award-winners with a musical career that spans more than 35 years. They back their vocal harmonies with guitar, five-string banjo, ukulele, mandolin, cello-banjo and other instruments.
HEALTH, MENTAL HEALTH, MEDICINE	10/15/23	7am hr	26 min	On The Record	Since recreational cannabis became legal July 1, Marylanders are spending millions on cannabis products every day. Adult-use sales topped $54 million in September, while medical cannabis sales fell slightly between August and September. We ask Will Tilburg, acting director of the Maryland Cannabis Administration, what products are selling most, how new licenses will expand the business, and who is watching for any impact on teenagers.

HEALTH, MENTAL HEALTH, MEDICINE	11/12/23	7am hr	26.5 min	On The Record	MD veterans' healthcare moves vets beyond military sexual trauma: About one in three women in the military -- and one in 50 men -- experience sexual assault or harassment. We hear from Dr. Christine Calmes, a Veterans Administration doctor, about specialized treatment. Then Erica Carpenter and Dr. Paula Smith-Benson, two women vets who overcame the trauma, talk about their experience and how they use their strength to help survivors thrive. Links: MD Veterans Healthcare, Dr. Calmes, head of Military Sexual Trauma program can be reached at 410-637-1231, Veterans Crisis line / call 988 press option 1.
HEALTH, MENTAL HEALTH, MEDICINE	11/12/23	7am hr	13 min	On The Record	Here's a Stoop Story from Gwen Mayes about lessons she's learned living with a chronic illness.
HEALTH, MENTAL HEALTH, MEDICINE	11/19/23	7am hr	5.5 min	On The Record	Stories from the Stoop: Dave Reichley goes all in to help a neighbor. A Stoop Story from Dave Reichley about the time he helped some neighbors out -- no matter how big the job! You can hear his story and others at Stoopstorytelling.com
HEALTH, MENTAL HEALTH, MEDICINE	11/26/23	7am hr	25 min	On The Record	TALMAR: Nature-based socializing and learning for people with disabilities. Nestled in northeast Baltimore County lies TALMAR: a haven of farmland, woods and soothing sounds. It's a place people with disabilities can go for socializing, rejuvenating and hands-on horticulture therapy. We meet executive director Kate Joyce, and then stop by for visit with some folks who have been regulars for years! Links: TALMAR, Sensory-friendly Santa, TALMAR Christmas Tree fundraiser.
HEALTH, MENTAL HEALTH, MEDICINE	12/3/23	7am hr	20 min	On The Record	EnChroma glasses open up a world of color: Have you enjoyed splashy fall colors this season? People who are colorblind miss out on some of that autumn bliss. EnChroma glasses allow those with 'color vision deficiency' see a fuller spectrum. We ask Don McPherson, inventor of the glasses, how they work -- and learn about a new test for color blindness. You can find the test here. EnChroma Glasses are available on loan at Brookside Gardens in Montgomery County.
POLITICS, GOVERNMENT	11/20/2023	8am hr	10 min	Morning Show	Eulogy in song and tribute for the late Rosalynn Carter.
RACE, IDENTITY, GENDER, CULTURE	10/3/2023	9am hr	5 min	Morning Show	Marking the birth anniversary of the most important folk singer of the 20th century.
RACE, IDENTITY, GENDER, CULTURE	10/17/2023	9am hr	8 min	Morning Show	Black Poetry Day. A recognition of the contribution of Black poets to American life and culture and to honor Jupiter Hammon, the first African American to publish his own verse.

RACE, IDENTITY, GENDER, CULTURE	11/05/23	7am hr	17.5 min	On The Record	Baltimore's rich native arts showcased in Indigenous Art Gallery. Charm City is blessed with a vibrant arts and culture scene. Now, Baltimore Center stage and the Baltimore American Indian Center team up to add to that bounty with a gallery to showcase local Indigenous arts. We hear about the inaugural Indigenous Art Gallery exhibit from Annalisa Dias, who directs 'Artistic Partnerships and Innovation' at Baltimore Center Stage. She is a Goan-American artist and co-founder of the non-profit 'Groundwater Arts.' Also with us was Ashley Minner Jones, a community-based visual artist in Baltimore who is an enrolled member of the Lumbee Tribe of North Carolina.
RACE, IDENTITY, GENDER, CULTURE	11/19/23	7am hr	24.5 min	On The Record	Everyone is welcome at the Baltimore American Indian Center Pow Wow. Drums like a heartbeat, voices rising in unison, dancers adorned with beads, feathers and bone. The Baltimore American Indian Center's 47th annual Pow Wow is this weekend. We get a preview from Christine Duckworth-Oxendine (Lumbee) and Louis Campbell (Blackfoot and Lumbee) both Northern Traditional dancers and educators at BAIC. Links: Baltimore American Indian Center 47th Annual Pow Wow Sat. Nov. 18, Baltimore American Indian Center, Holiday Sponsorship for Native Youth, Native American Lifelines Community Feast Potluck, Nov. 25.
RACE, IDENTITY, GENDER, CULTURE	11/26/23	7am hr	12 min	On The Record	Never Whistle at Night' spotlights dark fiction by Indigenous authors. Twenty-six indigenous writers from the U.S. and Canada -- including one from Maryland--poured stories into a new anthology of dark fiction. Some tales call on the supernatural, some on horrors lived in the real world. It's called "Never Whistle at Night." Our guests: Theodore C. Van Alst Jr. co-edited the collection, "Never Whistle at Night: An Indigenous Dark Fiction Anthology" Dani Trujillo is an author and one of the project's contributors.
RACE, IDENTITY, GENDER, CULTURE	12/10/23	7am hr	10.5 min	On The Record	Stoop Story: "Represent! Hanukkah, Target, and being seen." Here's a Stoop Story from Shira about the importance of representation, remaining open to conversation, and creating community.
RELIGION	10/08/23	7am hr	9 min	On The Record	a Stoop Story from Kerry Prayer about embracing the unconventional in the pursuit of love and family.

RELIGION	11/05/23	7am hr	26 min	On The Record	"Israel and Gaza through Marylander's eyes: Trauma and healing" Local clergy Rabbi Daniel Cotzin Burg traveled to Israel on a listening and solidarity mission. He bore witness to massacre sites and met with families of those taken hostage - we hear how they cope as they await news. The we hear from Sumayyah Bilal and Rebekka Paisner, two friends who bring their Jewish and Muslim communities together in Baltimore in hopes of fostering empathy and understanding. Links: Towards Wholeness, Sun. Nov. 5 at 4:30p.; Visions of Peace on Nov. 8 at 6:30pm at the Muslim Cultural Center of Baltimore.
SCIENCE, TECHNOLOGY	11/14/2023	7am hr	9 min	Morning Show	A recongition of automobile safety in song on National Seatbelt Day.