

WOUB Radio
Issues/Programs List July to September 2023

This quarter, news and events were dominated the ending of COVID-19 restrictions and the re-opening of the economy. In addition to our daily news reports and special features, WOUB broadcast news stories focused on local actions and news related to the pandemic, the opioid epidemic, economic innovation, and energy security. We continue to provide a national and international perspective with newscasts from NPR through the day, and PRI's The World at 7pm.

Our AM service continues to present Conversations from Studio B, providing information on a wide variety of topics of interest for and from the community and the University community. In addition, the daytime music format is feature rich, with features drawn from the Studio B programs, the Ohio Valley Resource, and from PRX.

We base our programming and production decision on a number of factors, including news stories and events in the region, letters and phone calls from listeners and efforts to find local angles to important national or international stories.

WOUB Radio 4A Third Quarter Ascertainment 2023

Story: MoSo Farm Profile

Description: A first generation, beginning farmer in Athens County is breaking the mold of a typical farmer.

WOUB's Morgan Anderson reports rural action's sustainable agriculture manager is planting proverbial seeds for a greener future.

Date: 07/10/2023

Program: 4A

Time: 0720

Length: 4:12

Story: Anti-Frack in Ohio Parks

Description: Activists who want to prevent fracking in Ohio's state parks are trying to rally more people to protect them. A new law requires agencies to consider proposals to drill for oil and gas under Ohio's public lands. The Allegheny Front's Julie Grant reports

Story: Issue 1 Fails

Description: The only issue on today's 8 special election ballot would raise the voter approval threshold for future constitutional amendments to 60%. But Issue 1 would also require groups proposing amendments to gather signatures from all 88 counties, doubling the current 44 county requirement.

Statehouse correspondent Karen Kasler reports that's being cited by a prominent Republican as a cause for concern about corruption.

Story: Wayne/Buckeye Forest

Description: Ohio's only national forest might get a new name. Wayne National Forest is named for General Anthony Wayne, a Revolutionary War veteran with a complicated history that includes the removal of American Indians from Ohio. From public radio member station WOSU, Allie Vugrincic (Voo-grin-sick) reports the U.S. Forest Service worked with American Indian tribes to choose the proposed name "Buckeye National Forest" – but not everyone is sold.

Story: State of Working

Description: Ohio's economy is tipping toward workers, after years of favoring businesses and employers. That's a conclusion from an annual report from a progressive think tank. The group still has ideas for improvement, but a research group on the other side of the spectrum has different views. Statehouse correspondent Karen Kasler reports.

Story: Redistricting Panel

Description: The first meeting of the panel of politicians that draws maps for Ohio's House and Senate districts was supposed to be just a quick organizational session. But the Ohio Redistricting Commission meeting got a late start and then recessed until Friday with no progress – because the commission members couldn't select co-chairs. Statehouse correspondent Karen Kasler reports.

Story: Dissent Within State Issue 1

Description: There is dissent among the state's various anti-abortion groups, as one is accusing the others of blocking efforts to enact a total ban on abortion in Ohio before voters cast ballots on a reproductive right amendment to the state's constitution.

Statehouse correspondent Jo Ingles reports that was apparent when one anti-abortion group held a rally at the Statehouse earlier this week.

Story: UNESCO Mound

Description: Ohio's Hopewell Ceremonial Earthworks are now the 25th site in the United States to be added to the UNESCO World Heritage List. These are locations considered of outstanding universal value such as the Pyramids, the Great Wall of China, Maccu Picchu, the Great Barrier Reef, and the Grand Canyon. The formal decision occurred this meeting during a meeting of the World Heritage Committee in Saudi Arabia.

From public radio member station WVXU, Tana Weingartner reports this day has been more than a decade in the making.
