Arts & Culture	We Have To Be Role Models': Native Americans Hold Sober New Year's Eve Powwow	Statewide	Morning Edition/All Things Considered	1/1/20:5a-10p	:45	Native Americans gathered in Sioux City for New Year's Eve Tuesday night to honor their heritage with music and dance, and set an example of living a healthy lifestyle. The community's powwow celebrated Native American culture, different styles of dancing, and food – all while completely sober.
Research & Science	Cedar Falls Native Raja Chari Takes Giant Leap Toward Childhood Dream	Statewide	Morning Edition/All Things Considered	1/10/20:5a-10p	3:53	The first class of astronauts to graduate under NASA's Artemis program was honored at the agency's Johnson Space Center in Houston Friday. One of the graduates is Cedar Falls native Raja Chari. Chari spent two years in training after attending the Air Force Academy and MIT. He says the Artemis program aims to send astronauts back to the moon and to Mars.
Ag & Environment	Agriculture Hopes For A Win As US And China Prepare To Sign Phase One Trade Deal	Statewide	Morning Edition/All Things Considered	1/14/20:5a-10p	:45	The first phase of a new trade agreement between the United States and China is scheduled for a White House signing ceremony Wednesday, and many in the agriculture community are hoping the deal will bring some relief to the farm economy. The Phase One agreement will begin to resolve the nearly two year exchange of tariffs the two countries have levied on each other's goods—the United States in an attempt, the Trump administration says, to pressure China to reform some of its trade policies and China in retaliation.
Arts & Culture	Pollinators	Statewide	Studio One	1/15/20:7p-8p	1 hour	A live broadcast of Pollinators performing live in-studio.
Politics & Gov't	Biden on President Trump's Attacks: "None Of The Punches Have Landed"	Statewide	Morning Edition/All Things Considered	1/20/20:5a-10p	7:10	Democratic presidential candidate Joe Biden will have an advantage over the Senators running for his party's nomination as President Trump's impeachment trial begins Tuesday. The trial centers on the president pressuring Ukraine to investigate the Bidens. Iowa Public Radio's Clay Masters sat down with the former vice president before a Saturday campaign event at Simpson College in Indianola.

Health & Education	Report: Iowa Gets Failing Grades For Tobacco Prevention Efforts	Statewide	Morning Edition/All Things Considered	1/29/20:5a-10p	:45	Iowa has a lot of room for improvement when it comes to preventing tobacco use, according to a new report by the American Lung Association. The Annual State of Tobacco Control report gave Iowa low grades in nearly every category. This includes failing grades for its tobacco prevention and control program funding and for the amount it taxes tobacco products.
