 Homeless Youth and Families BECON 00:28:22
 Many of us may not be aware of the plight of homeless youth and families in Broward. According to the 2015 Point in Time Count Report, there are approximately 2,730 individuals and families classified as homeless in Broward County. Approximately 10% of these are children and youth under 24 who are either on the streets or living in shelters at any given time.

 Success for Youth Through Boss BECON 00:27:26
 Good intentions can interfere with positive results. Until recently, for example, federal and state funding available to help disadvantaged youth successfully navigate graduating high school and transitioning to higher education or employment was structured in ways that precluded many students in need from taking advantage of available benefits. The new federal Performance Partnership Pilots, or P3, targeting youth at risk of dropping out of school, provides waivers from some of the federal rules in a way that we hope will make a huge difference in the lives of many youth.

 Good intentions can interfere with positive results. Until recently, for example, federal and state funding available to help disadvantaged youth successfully navigate graduating high school and transitioning to higher education or employment was structured in ways that precluded many students in need from taking advantage of available benefits. The new federal Performance Partnership Pilots, or P3, targeting youth at risk of dropping out of school, provides waivers from some of the federal rules in a way that we hope will make a huge difference in the lives of many youth.

Many of us may not be aware of the plight of homeless youth and families in Broward. According to the 2015 Point in Time Count Report, there are approximately 2,730 individuals and families classified as homeless in Broward County. Approximately 10% of these are children and youth under 24 who are either on the streets or living in shelters at any given time.

Good intentions can interfere with positive results. Until recently, for example, federal and state funding available to help disadvantaged youth successfully navigate graduating high school and transitioning to higher education or employment was structured in ways that precluded many students in need from taking advantage of available benefits. The new federal Performance Partnership Pilots, or P3, targeting youth at risk of dropping out of school, provides waivers from some of the federal rules in a way that we hope will make a huge difference in the lives of many youth.
