

TIME BROKERAGE AGREEMENTS

WKHB Radio, Broadcast Communications, Inc., ("Licensee") promotes programming diversity by providing specific types of programming for certain underserved audience segment population groups through the sale of program time to individuals ("clients" "client") who host specialty programs. The clients who purchase program time under the Time Brokerage concept (except as noted below on a per client basis) do not have any employees associated with the clients' specialty program. Generally (except as noted below on a per client basis) the clients are individuals, but may be a husband-and-wife team. The client may also consist of the individual (the client) who may be assisted by an associate and/or a guest who are usually volunteering their time to help conduct the specialty program. The licensee maintains its own staff of station employees who provide production services for clients and maintain supervisory and operational control of the radio station facilities. Clients who purchase program time for specialty programs (except as noted below on a per client basis) either broadcast live or are prerecorded (in either case) using the radio station studio facilities of licensee. All such program time purchases by clients who host specialty programs are by verbal agreement only with the client required to obey and follow licensee's stated rules and practices regarding FCC rules and regulations that are relevant to over the air radio broadcasting. Although program time clients are generally "long term" clients of licensee, program time for specialty programs is sold to clients on a program to program or day to day basis with each party, licensee and client, retaining the right to cancel clients' specialty program at any time immediately upon a moment's notice. Clients who purchase program time from licensee for specialty programs are set forth and stated below:
