2. Participation in job fairs by personnel with substantial responsibility in hiring decisions:

Summer 2023 – We knew from trainings via General Public and NPR that other stations have had success in attracting diverse candidates by doing active recruitment and tapping their personal and professional networks – in that vein, we specifically reached out to minority-focused programs at station KOPN like One-Mic, to contacts at Lincoln University, and to the disabled community locally and made appeals through our staff to their networks.

Staff also attended local community events as part of our community coverage. At several of these events, organic conversations happened with attendees discussing job openings at KBIA as well as how best to record their own conversations with family and friends.

3. Engineer continues participation in NAB and the SBE Engineering training program as part of ongoing training and professional development
