

Quarterly Issues/Program List for October 1st, 2018 - December 31st, 2018. The following is a listing of the significant issues responded to by the following stations: WUMB-FM Boston, WBPR-FM Worcester, WUMG Stow, WUMT-FM Marshfield, WUMV-FM Milford, WFPB-AM Orleans, along with the most significant treatment of those issues

Program Issue	Date	WUMB Air Time	Program Name	Narrative of Type, Description of Issue
Arts & Entertainment	10/7/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: A First Lady's Second Love	One came from a wealth and privilege, the other from poverty. One was the niece of one president and the wife of another, the other was a reporter for the Associated Press. Anna Fisher-Pinkert talks with author Susan Quinn about the unlikely romance between First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt and Lorena "Hick" Hickock, subject of the new book Eleanor and Hick
Arts	10/14/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: From Solitary to the Stage	Sara Mariposa Fonseca spent more than two years in solitary confinement in a California prison. Her letters to her friend Julia Steele Allen were one of the only links she had to the outside world. Now, Julia is telling Mariposa's story on stage. Host Anna Fisher-Pinkert talks with Julia Steele Allen about creating and performing Mariposa and the Saint
Entertainment	10/21/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: Redefining Family in the Guy Next Door	The film The Guys Next Door takes an in-depth look at what family means, whether you are a parent, a child, a partner, or a friend. Over three years, filmmakers Amy Geller and Allie Humenuk followed Erik and Sandro, a gay couple, and their friend Rachel, who is pregnant with the couple's second child. Host Anna Fisher-Pinkert talks to Allie and Amy about this intimate portrait of modern family life.
Arts & Entertainment	10/28/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: When Poetry Meets Politics	When was the last time you've ever been inspired by a poem? When was the last time a poem made you cry or angry? Stay tuned to talk more about the power of poetry in difficult times.
Health & Safety	11/4/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: Stormy Weather Ahead	It happened in New York it can happen here too. Flooded streets and subway tunnels, down power lines, stranded commuters with no where to go. A sandy storm can do damage to Boston. So what can we do now to protect our city? Coming up next, scientist Eleanor Douglas talks about storm sea level rise and the future of Boston.
Politics	11/11/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: The State of Transgender Rights in Massachusetts	In 2016 a few issues have been as fast as polarizing or as dramatic as transgender rights. Here in Massachusetts the legislation is inching closer to a state wide transition into a descrimination law. Meanwhile in other states conservatives and transgender activists are clasing over the so called bathroom bills. Up next we will talk to activist and educator Mason Dunn about the state of trans rights in Massachusetts and beyond.
Education	11/18/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: Is Boston A Resilient City?	Is the city of Boston a resilient city? Bostonians have been tested by winter storms and terror attacks, but could the city improve on the way it prepares and rebuilds from disaster in a way that include more bostonians. Coming up conversation with Atiys Martin, Bostons chief resilient officer about what it means for Boston to bounce back.
Health & Safety	11/25/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: Addiction, Recovery and the Opioid Crisis	Opioid addiction has reached a state of emergency in the state of Massachusetts As overdose sats increase, how should we care for the people struggling with addiction what can we do to slow the rise in opioids. Coming up next, addiction counselor expert Bill Carlo talks about the opioid crises in Massachusetts.
Immigration	12/2/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: Immigration and the Baystate.	Over a million immigrants live in the commonwealth of Massachusetts, everyday new immigrants arrive in Bosotn . Up next we will talk to Eduardo Cirera coordinator of the trans national brazilian project and advisor for Bostons office for immigration enhancements. "We want to see imigrants belong in the city in as a complete way possible. So that we can actually take advantage of the assets immigrants bring to the city."
Arts	12/9/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: The Marble Collection	Where will we find the new next generation of poets and story tellers, you might find them in between the pages of the marble collectio. The Massachusetts High School magazine of the arts. We will talk to Deanna Elliot founder of the Marble collection. We will also meet two teen authors who's work is featured in the latest edition of the magazine.
Politics	12/16/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal: The Aura of War	Artist Minoo Emami survived the Iran-Iraq war, and her art is inspired by the long-term impacts of that conflict, and of violent conflicts around the world. Working with other Iranian women artists, Emami transforms prosthetic limbs into beautiful objects. Emami joins host Anna Fisher-Pinkert for a conversation about art, war, and memory.
Education	12/23/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journal:Are we Teaching Science Wrong?	Jobs in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) are predicted to grow exponentially in the next 20 years. Are our schools ready to teach kids what they need to know to be successful in STEM? Education expert Arthur Eisenkraft joins host Anna Fisher-Pinkert for a conversation about curiosity, creativity, and accountability in science education.
Politics	12/30/2018	7:30 AM -8:00 AM	Common Wealth Journa: When I'm 67	Retirement should be a time to kick back and relax - but for more and more Americans, retirement is a time of financial stress and uncertainty. Politicians and policy experts are at odds about how to make a financially secure retirement possible for all Americans. Professor Christian Weller joins host Anna Fisher-Pinkert and shares insight from his book Retirement on the Rocks: Why Americans Can't Get Ahead and How New Savings Policies Can Help.