Program	17-01	Producers Reed Pence, Evan Rook
Air Week	1/1/2017	Production Director Sean Waldron
1:46	SEGMENT 1: Solving crimes with new technology	12:10
	Synopsis: With new gadgets and programs being invented every day, the technologies used in solving crimes are changing constantly. We reached out to leading experts on the subject, including a programmer, a 3D printing specialist, and best-selling crime author Patricia Cornwell. Through these interviews, we got the inside scoop on how mobile devices, 3D models, and even "smart home" devices like a refrigerator can be used to crunch the data, solve crimes, and present cases in court. Host: Gary Price. Guests: Lee Reiber, COO for Oxygen Forensics Inc.; Jerry Ropelator, CEO of White Clouds; Patricia Cornwell, bestselling crime author, author of "Chaos." Links for more info: www.oxygen-forensic.com, www.whiteclouds.com, http://www.patriciacornwell.com/ Compliance Issues Covered: Forensics, Technology, Media, Law, Law Enforcement, Literature
15:59	SEGMENT 2: What we love about time travel	9:27
	Synopsis: We see it everywhere: time travel. The concept has dominated our books, movies, and television for decades. We even saw a time travel ethics question dominate our primary election coverage. So what is it about these stories that we find so irresistible? We talk to Dr. Travis Langley, a pop culture psychologist, to uncover what lies underneath the fantasy we've all indulged from time to time: traveling backwards and forwards through time. Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Dr. Travis Langley, author of a series of pop culture psychology books including, "Doctor Who Psychology: A Madman with a Box." Links for more info: http://www.travislangley.info/ https://www.psychologytoday.com/experts/travis-langley-phd https://www.amazon.com/Travis-Langley/e/B006UXQOTC Compliance Issues Covered: Psychology, Arts, History, Literature

1:46	SEGMENT 1: Uniquely Jazz: Sheila Jordan		12:00
	Synopsis: With "La La Land" tapping into theaters around the country and a strong contender for this year's Oscars, we wanted to re-visit one of the quintessential American art forms: jazz. And nobody sings jazz better, or more distinctly, than Sheila Jordan. We talk to Jordan and her biographer about Jordan's rise, the racism that jazz musicians – both black and white – experienced, and the need to preserve from poverty to her career singing with some of the most famous jazz musicians of the 20th century this music for future generations. Host: Gary Price. Guests: Sheila Jordan, jazz singer, teacher and composer. Ellen Johnson, singer, musician, author of Jazz Child: A portrait of Sheila Jordan Links for more info: www.sheilajordanjazz.com www.jazzchildthebook.com Compliancy Issues Covered: Art, History, Racism, America
15:49	SEGMENT 2: Fighting Fair and Productively		10:37
	Synopsis: Of course, conflict is part of life, but it doesn't always have to turn into a big argument. We talk to two experts on conflict about how to make disagreements with anyone, from your work life to your home life, into a more peaceful, enlightening experience. Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Dana Caspersen, mediator, teacher and author of, "Changing the Conversation: The 17 principles of conflict resolution." Dr. Judith Wright, author, coach, corporate consultant and founder of the Wright Graduate University for the Realization of Human Potential, where she also teaches. Links for more info: www.danacaspersen.com www.judithwright.com www.wrightliving.com Compliancy Issues Covered: Interpersonal Skills, Mental Health, Employment &amp; Labor; Marriage &amp; Family issues

1:47	SEGMENT 1: The Precarious Position of African-American Republicans		10:50
	Synopsis: Later this week, President-elect Donald Trump will become President Donald Trump. With his inauguration looming, the Republican party must feel pretty good about their position moving forward. But how are they doing with minority voters, specifically African Americans? We talk to expert and author Corey Fields about what motivates black Republicans, how they're treated both at home and within their party, and what the future may hold for the direction of minorities within the Republican voting block. Host: Gary Price. Guests: Corey Fields, Assistant professor of sociology at Stanford University, affiliated member at the Center for the Comparative Studies of Race &amp; Ethnicity, and author of the book Black Elephants in the Room: The Unexpected Politics of African American Republicans Links for more info: https://sociology.stanford.edu/people/corey-d-fields  http://www.ucpress.edu/book.php?isbn=9780520291904 Compliancy Issues Covered: Politics, History, Race, America
14:40	SEGMENT 2: Digital Independence: How to sign off and like it		10:47
	Synopsis: With emails, spam, texts and instant messaging it's a wonder we ever have time anymore to just sit and relax with family and friends. At the office, we spend so much time online, how do we get anything done...or done well? That's what worried our guest who took a 31-day vacation from the Internet to reconnect with her loved-ones and learn about how online life needs to be balanced with face-to-face communications and relaxation. Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Christina Cook, communications professional and author of the book, The Joy of Missing Out: Finding balance in a wired world Links for more info: http://www.jomobook.com/ Compliancy Issues Covered: Interpersonal Skills, Mental Health, Communications; Technology; Social Media; Family Issues; Bullying

1:47	SEGMENT 1: The Art of Quitting		11:06
	Synopsis: Many people remain in bad situations because they are afraid to quit, but they shouldn't. Our guest says that if you take the time to carefully plan just how and when you'll walk out the door, it's easier to deal with the anxiety, fear and depression that can follow such a big decision. We'll hear about steps anyone can take – and those they shouldn't – when it's time to quit and move on. Host: Gary Price. Guests: Peg Streep writes non-fiction, is a blogger at Psychology Today.com and the author of the book, "Quitting: Why we fear it, and why we shouldn't, in life, love and work," now out in paperback. Links for more info: http://www.facebook.com/PegStreepauthor Compliance Issues Covered: Employment, Mental health, Psychology
14:55	SEGMENT 2: Unleashing Your Creativity		10:28
	Synopsis: It's a common goal to get back to the creative passions of your youth and write that novel... but something always seems to be holding us back. We talk to two experts about the roadblocks on the way to finishing your masterpiece and how to overcome them. Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Danielle Krysa, author of the book Your Inner Critic Is a Big Jerk: And other truths about being creative, David W. Berner, radio host, professor at Columbia College Chicago, author of Night Radio Links for more info: http://www.chroniclebooks.com/titles/your-inner-critic-is-a-big-jerk.html, http://www.thejealouscurator.com/blog/, http://www.davidwberner.com/ Compliance Issues Covered: Art &amp; Creativity, Literature, Personal Development, Self-help

1:47	SEGMENT 1: The State of American Cities		11:06
	Synopsis: Cities, from New York and Chicago to New Orleans and San Francisco, are a vital piece of our country. First, we talk to author Joshua Jelly-Schapiro about the role these cities have come to play in our culture and our lives. Then, we talk to author and former professor William Goldsmith about the problems facing our cities and his ideas on how we can fix them. Host: Gary Price. Guests: Joshua Jelly-Schapiro, co-author of Nonstop Metropolis: A New York City Atlas; William Goldsmith, retired professor of city and regional planning at Cornell University and author of the book, Saving Our Cities: A Progressive Plan to Transform Urban America Links for more info: http://www.cornellpress.cornell.edu/book/?GCOI=80140100510000, http://joshuajellyschapiro.com/, http://www.ucpress.edu/book.php?isbn=9780520285958 Compliancy Issues Covered: Crime, Drugs, Education, Equality, Government, Infrastructure, Culture, Social Issues
14:55	SEGMENT 2: The Real Story Behind Our Favorite Nursery Rhymes		10:31
	Synopsis: Have you ever stopped to think about where those cute little nursery rhymes you read to your children came from? You might be surprised to know that many were actually protests against religious persecution, corrupt politicians and even sexual conduct. We talk to a librarian and author about where nursery rhymes came from and how they were used before they ended up in Mother Goose books. Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Chris Roberts, librarian, author of Heavy Words Lightly Thrown: The reason behind the rhyme. Links for more info: https://www.amazon.com/Heavy-Words-Lightly-Thrown-Reason/dp/B001G8WV8Y Compliancy Issues Covered: Literature, Arts, Politics, Religion, Culture, Government

1:47	SEGMENT 1: History, Not Precedent: America's Internment Camps		11:01
	Synopsis: Japanese internment camps are something we're aware of, but may not fully understand. Photo historian and author Richard Cahan talks about the history of the camps, what makes them so "un-American," and why he says we shouldn't look back at the camps as precedent or a blueprint, but as a black eye we should avoid repeating at all costs. Host: Gary Price. Guests: Richard Cahan, photo historian, former Chicago Sun-Times editor, and author of Un-American: The Incarceration of Japanese Americans During World War II Links for more info: http://www.cityfilespress.com/books/un-american-incarceration-japanese-americans-world-war-ii/ Compliancy Issues Covered: History, Government, Civil Rights, Racism, Ethics
14:50	SEGMENT 2: The Craft and Responsibility of Writing Books for Young People		10:35
	Synopsis: We encourage our children to read... but what are they reading? We talk to two authors, one for children and one for young adults, who discuss juggling their desire to entertain with the necessity of teaching young people about ethics, history, and tougher topics like drugs and addiction. Host: Marty Peterson. 1:47	SEGMENT 1: The Funny Side of Philosophy		11:18
	Synopsis: Often, philosophy is so dense and hard to fully process that it feels impossible to understand and enjoy. Thomas Cathcart and Daniel Klein are trying to fix that problem. Their book, Plato and a Platypus Walk Into a Bar explains some of the deepest thinkers of all time, like Immanuel Kant or John Locke, with humor. Both authors join the show to tell stories, crack jokes, and clarify some of the big ideas of philosophy. Host: Gary Price. Guests: Thomas Cathcart and Daniel Klein, philosophers, humorists, and authors of Plato and Platypus Walk Into a Bar... Understanding Philosophy Through Jokes Links for more info: http://platoandaplatypus.com/  http://www.penguinrandomhouse.com/books/302997/plato-and-a-platypus-walk-into-a-bar---by-thomas-cathcart/9780143113874/ Compliancy Issues Covered: Philosophy, History, Academia, Education
15:07	SEGMENT 2: Civil Rights History: The March Against Fear		10:18
	Synopsis: In 1966, Civil Rights pioneer James Meredith set out on The March Against Fear, a walk to prove black citizens no longer needed to fear white people. Soon after beginning, he was ambushed and shot. The march was continued by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Stokely Carmichael, and countless others. Weeks later, Meredith had recovered and rejoined the walk, giving history an enduring image of persistence and determination. We talk to historian Ann Bausum about the history and impact of the march. Host: Marty Peterson. Guests: Ann Bausum, historian and author of the book, The March Against Fear: The Last Great Walk of the Civil Rights Movement and the Emergence of Black Power Links for more info: http://www.annbausum.com/, Compliancy Issues Covered: Civil Rights, Race Relations, African-American Issues, Social Issues, History

1:47	SEGMENT 1: Post-Election Protests: Can They Make Real Change?		11:30
	Synopsis: Since the election, protests for issues on both sides of the political spectrum have grabbed headlines. A women's march, a march for life, a march for science, the list goes on. But can these protests make a difference, and if so, where? We talk to political science experts about movements that have succeeded in the past and how change may come about, specifically when it comes to the electoral college system that some feel over-values certain states over others. Host: Gary Price. Guests: David Cannon, Professor and Chair of Political Science at the University of Wisconsin-Madison; Jasmine Farrier, Professor of Political Science at the University of Louisville Links for more info: https://polisci.wisc.edu/people/faculty/david-canon,  https://louisville.edu/politicalscience/political-science-faculty/jasmine-farrier Compliancy Issues Covered: Politics, Government, Protests, Voters Rights, Women's Rights
