Dear Sarah Rothenfluch,

On behalf of the students, faculty and administration of Columbia Journalism School, we thank you sincerely for participating in Career Expo 2015. We hope you found the event a satisfying and worthwhile commitment of your time. The Class of 2015 greatly appreciated your support and had high praise for the expertise you shared.

Expo 2015 was the largest in our history: 144 companies sent nearly 300 newsroom professionals to interview our students. For the third year in a row, Lerner Hall was filled to capacity.

We've already begun planning for next year's event so save the date: Saturday, April 2, 2016. If you plan to attend, please mark your calendars.

If you have any feedback about the Expo, please be in touch. We are eager to continue to refine the event to best serve your needs.

As always, if any jobs, internships or freelance positions open up in your newsroom in the coming year, please take advantage of our JobNews website. The service is free and password-protected, which means your postings will target a cohort of 12,000 Journalism School alumni and students who have the experience and cutting edge skills you're seeking. We also welcome you to visit us any time to meet with students and solicit candidates.

Again, thank you very much for your interest and support of our students and journalism education.

Sincerely,

Julie Hartenstein
