

WMNX

Public Affairs

4th quarter 2012

Shows air Sunday morning at 6am and are 30 minutes in length

Brian with CIS 10/07

Brian discussed Communities In Schools and their role in our community for school retention and gang prevention. Nationally they are one of the top ranked non-profits for drop out prevention.

Charlon Turner, OTW. 10/14

Charlon and I were able to discuss the goals and accomplishments of the local non-profit mentoring agency Outside the Walls. Charlon explained that they are consistently looking to match students with responsible adults that care to have a positive influence.

Frankie Roberts 10/21

Mr. Roberts is the Executive Director of L.I.N.C which is an agency that focuses on re-employing ex-offenders and creating changed communities. Frankie talked about business and community employers being more open to hiring ex-offenders.

Linda Riley 10/28

Linda is the catalyst for connecting individuals with community members that could be positive mentors for those who may have had troubled pasts and no positive influences. She is a community liaison for the Wilmington Police department that creates programs that improve the safety of citizens and police relations.

Robbin Williams 11/04

Robbin is an entrepreneur using her love for dance and her passion for helping young women to drive an effort called D.O.I Dance. Robbin held a conference for young girls teaching them self-branding, the importance of a great education.

Isaiah Hunter 11/11

Isaiah is an entrepreneur and the youth minister/director for New Beginning Christian Church. Isaiah discussed the community outreach of teaching youth to enjoy Halloween in a safe manner through an event he puts together through the church called Hallelujah Night.

Odyssey- NHHS 11/18

Brian Guthrie of New Hanover High School leads a youth group called Odyssey. Several students along with Mr. Guthrie attended the studio interview to discuss the goals of the program and how it has influenced them. Odyssey participates community efforts volunteerism.

Jonathon Barfield 11/25

New Hanover County Commissioner Jonathon Barfield attended the show to discuss some of the changes and efforts he has spearheaded to improve the family relationship especially that of fathers with their children. Mr. Barfield is a part of a fatherhood effort called WatchDogs that gathers positive men in the community and travels to different schools to fellowship with students.

Mildred Bethea 12/2

Ms. Bethea is a cancer survivor that spearheading an effort called, "Driving for Change" that locates bone marrow for people in need. She informs the community of the importance of getting involved. She also tells the listeners where they can help others.

CFCC students Jamir Jumoke David Wilson / Chris Hamilton 12/9

All of these young men are ex-offenders that have turned the corner and are trying to carve new and different lives for themselves. From becoming scholarship recipients to student government president these men are focused on reaching their next level and are shining examples of how to help others need the same encouragement.

Doug Tarble 12/16

Doug is the Director of the Cape Fear Community College Small Business Center. Doug shares the pitfalls of starting a small business and how any entrepreneur can receive free business counseling through his center.

Robert L Campbell 12/23

Pastor Campbell is the visionary and minister of New Beginning Christian Church. In his interview we discuss pursuing vision as an entrepreneur and how the vision can be reached despite barriers that may have been faced.

Carlos Braxton 12/30

Braxton Realty discussed the housing climate and how to prepare to purchase a home with good, or bad credit.