4/14/24	Heidarzadeh	Shirin Shivai, After finishing high school in Iran, Shirin Shivai came to America in 2013 and started his bachelor's degree in electrical engineering at MIT University in Cambridge, Massachusetts. From that time, due to his interest in researching biological cells and the complexity of biological systems, she tried to use her knowledge in the field of communication systems and electrical circuits to understand and engineer biological systems. Due to this interest, after receiving her bachelor's and master's degrees from MIT in 2017 and 2018, she immediately began her PhD in biological engineering at Caltech University of California. She is currently working on her PhD research at Caltech University, and her research focus in recent years has been on a new method for imaging cells and their function inside the body. For this, she designs special protein structures that can be seen with ultrasound waves.	Imaging of Cells with Ultrasound Waves
