QUARTERLY PROGRAM TOPIC REPORT

Report Covering 1/01/2024 through 3/31/2024

Prepared and Filed 4/10/2024
by Joseph T. Yezak, Programming Office, WDCQ

This report is a sampling of programs that were aired from January 1, 2024 through March 31, 2024 that significantly addressed specific topics.

In addition to a sampling of alphabetical topical listings, at the end of this document is also a listing of educational and informational needs of children programming and local programming designed specifically for our viewing audience to address community issues. Many of the programs listed aired more than once but only the primary airing is listed. Copies of the January, February and March 2024 Programming Newsletters are available upon request which are a brief listing of the monthly program schedules.

Since the U.S. Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade in 2022, attempts to use the ballot box to enshrine the right to access abortion services into state constitutions have proliferated. This November, the issue could be on the ballot in as many as a dozen states, including some where abortion is banned or severely restricted. John Yang speaks with legal historian Mary Ziegler to learn more.

Polls show about seven in 10 Americans say abortion should be legal in cases of rape or incest. But since the Supreme Court overturned Roe v. Wade, nine states have banned abortion in those cases. A study in the Journal of the American Medical Association calculates there have been more than 64,000 rape-related pregnancies in areas with bans. John Yang discussed the study with Dr. Samuel Dickman.

For nearly 50 years, chemical engineer and inventor Maria Telkes applied her prodigious intellect to harnessing the power of the sun. She designed and built the world's first successfully solar-heated modern residence and identified a promising new chemical that, for the first time, could store solar heat like a battery. And yet, along the way, she was undercut and thwarted by her boss and colleagues - all men - at MIT. Despite these obstacles, Telkes persevered and, upon her death in 1995, held more than 20 patents. She is now recognized as a visionary pioneer in the field of sustainable energy. An unexpected and largely forgotten heroine, Telkes was remarkable in her vision and tenacity - a scientist and a woman in every way ahead of her time. Her research and innovations from the 1930s through the 70s continue to shape how we power our lives today.

In this episode we see why marine species are drawn to the coasts of Australia and discover that the country's three surrounding oceans - the Southern Sea, the Pacific and The Indian Ocean create a unique environment for ocean voyagers of all types. In the clean waters of Pearson Island off South Australia Sealions, once a rare sight are now protected from hunting and are thriving. Meanwhile in the shallows of Spencer Gulf, June is the time for a midwinter gathering of spectacularly colourful giant cuttlefish who battle for mates. The cold Southern Ocean also brings humpback whales from Antarctica to give birth and triggers the breath-taking spectacle of thousands of Australian spider crabs, the largest crustaceans in the world, congregating under the piers of Port Philip Bay to moult. It's a grisly time as the first to reveal their soft shells are cannibalised by their neighbours. Still, there's safety in numbers as bigger predators, smooth stingrays, sweep over the congregation sucking them from the seabed.

Following a trail of strange fossils found in all the wrong places—beech trees in Antarctica, hippo-like mammals in the Arctic—Johnson uncovers the bizarre history of the poles, from miles-high ice sheets to warm polar forests teeming with life. What caused such dramatic changes at the ends of the Earth? And what controls the dial on Earth's thermostat? Today, the Arctic is warming faster than anywhere else in the world, and Antarctica has locked in its ice enough water to raise sea level by a terrifying 200 feet. The way that the poles respond to a warming climate is one of the greatest wildcards in predicting our climate future. Johnson uses Earth's history, written in stone, as a cipher to decode what is going on at our polar extremes today, and what the future may hold.

As recently as the early 80s, about three of every four doctors in the U.S. worked for themselves, owning small clinics. Today, some 75 percent of physicians are employees of hospital systems or large corporate entities. Some worry the trend is leading to diminished quality of care and is one reason doctors at a large Midwestern health provider decided to unionize. Fred de Sam Lazaro reports.

The most significant immigration reform proposal in a generation is now in the hands of the Senate. The bipartisan deal would tighten asylum rules and allow for partial border shutdowns while increasing enforcement and opening some new avenues for legal migration. The measure would also offer billions in aid to Ukraine, Israel and Taiwan. Congressional correspondent Lisa Desjardins reports.

Daniel Patrick Moynihan was the quintessential American poet-politician. He alone infused public policy with a language, literature, and lyricism that no American public figure in the latter half of the twentieth century could match. The film takes a personal look at a public man who was not only an intellectual but also an aesthete who was deeply committed to making an inimitable impact on the world. With unprecedented access to the Moynihan archives made available by his family, the film will capture and define a character whose life embodied a quintessential American story. The range of Moynihan's interests was extraordinary: architecture, urban planning, public works, transportation safety, international diplomacy, government secrecy and above all, an unyielding commitment to creating systemic change for the American underclass. Directed by Joe Dorman.

Leonardo da Vinci is well known for his inventions as well as his art. New evidence shows that many of his ideas were realized long before he sketched them out in his notebooks- some even 1,700 years before him! Of these "inventions" da Vinci never affirmed that his projects came from his original ideas. This film features drawings of his most famous ideas and inventions, some of which trace their original creation to ancient Greece while others were a product of the scientific inventions of golden age of Islamic learning. This knowledge seemed to be lost in Europe during the Dark Ages until the Renaissance when da Vinci recovered it.

Join renowned paleontologist Kirk Johnson on an epic adventure through time at the polar extremes of our planet. Following a trail of strange fossils found in all the wrong places-beech trees in Antarctica, hippo-like mammals in the Arctic-Johnson uncovers the bizarre history of the poles, from miles-high ice sheets to warm polar forests teeming with life. What caused such dramatic changes at the ends of the Earth? And what controls the dial on Earth's thermostat? Today, the Arctic is warming faster than anywhere else in the world, and Antarctica has locked in its ice enough water to raise sea level by a terrifying 200 feet. The way that the poles respond to a warming climate is one of the greatest wildcards in predicting our climate future. Johnson uses Earth's history, written in stone, as a cipher to decode what is going on at our polar extremes today, and what the future may hold.

A decision from the Alabama Supreme Court has alarmed doctors, patients and reproductive rights advocates. The court ruled that frozen embryos, created through in vitro fertilization, are legally children and thus protected. The designation of personhood could have significant repercussions for reproductive rights. Stephanie Sy discussed the questions raised by this ruling with Mary Ziegler.

Boblo Boats: A Detroit Ferry Tale

January 6, 2024 @ 2:00am

For over 85 years, steamships Ste. Claire and SS Columbia transported generations of Detroiters to Boblo Island, an amusement park nestled in the waters between the US and Canada. When Claire comes under threat of ruin, a doctor, psychic and amusement park fanatic unite to save their beloved steamship from the scrapyard. Interweaving lore and mythology, "Boblo Boats" explores the whitewashed history of amusement parks and one crew's crusade to bring back the memories.

Let's Have Some Church Detroit Style

January 11, 2024 @ 11:00pm

Set in the challenging environment of a rust belt metropolis, Let's Have Some Church Detroit Style introduces 25 men and women singing in an all-star community choir. In this film filled with glorious music, The Hallelujah Singers and their charismatic director, Dr. E. LaQuint Weaver, show us that in a city recovering from bankruptcy, wealth is not always counted in dollars and cents. The film's narrative portraits of seven choir members, young and old, reveal that their community, convictions, and music sustain and enrich them.

Great Lake To Lake Rail Trail

January 12, 2024 @ 2:30am

This documentary about the Great Lake to Lake Trail (South Haven to Port Huron), will tell the story of the trail's birth, development and opening and its unique values to cyclists and others through the links to Amtrack, the many towns and attractions it connects and the value of social interaction, enjoyment and improved physical health with appropriate social distancing related to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Heroes On Deck: World War II On Lake Michigan

February 13, 2024 @ 2:00am

HEROES ON DECK: World War II on Lake Michigan tells the story of a bold operation that changed the course of World War II. In 1942, responding to the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, the U.S. Navy converted two passenger steamships into aircraft carriers to train more than 15,000 pilots and 40,000 deck crews in the safety of Lake Michigan. Today, dozens of aircraft still rest on the lake bottom.

B-52 And Oscoda: The Making Of Wurtsmith AFB

February 26, 2024 @ 8:00pm

Delta College Public Media takes a look at life on Wurtsmith Air Force Base, the small town of Oscoda, and how the two are intertwined. The B-52 and Oscoda tells the story of how an airstrip in the small town of Oscoda, Michigan, became one of three Strategic Air Command bases in the state with the B-52 bomber.

You'll hear what life was like for a B-52 crew and learn about the role this plane played in the Cold War and Vietnam War. You will also see what happened to the planes, the base and the town as the Cold War came to an end and the U.S. and the former Soviet Union began to disarm.

Michigan: An American Portrait

February 27, 2024 @ 8:00pm

MICHIGAN: AN AMERICAN PORTRAIT celebrates the traditions, history, and culture of the Wolverine State. Featuring striking footage across all four seasons, the hour-long documentary captures the breadth and scope of this geographically diverse state. For three years, crews filmed at more than 80 locations throughout the state, capturing dramatic footage from atop the southern span of the Mackinac Bridge, and drone footage in multiple locations such as Copper Harbor. They endured sub-zero, near-blizzard conditions at Bond Falls; witnessed beautiful sunsets over Little Traverse Bay; and visited other local terrains along Lake Superior, Michigan, and Huron. Along the way, they captured the renaissance taking place in Detroit. The film also chronicles significant elements of Michigan's history, including its roots in the Native American experience; its world-renowned innovations in automation, farming, technology, and manufacturing; and its impact on the arts.
