Public Affairs Feature: Flu Outbreak

Guest: County Health Department's Megan Reeder

During the past few weeks, the number of reported flu cases has continued to be at very high level. The outbreak is such that for a number of days Overton County schools have been closed. Most recently the school closure is to allow a five-day period to hopefully allow students and teachers the opportunity to recover from their flu event.

Megan Reeder returned to FOCUS ON COMMUNITY on the WLIV airwaves to update our listeners on the serious nature of this year's flu outbreak. She urged everyone to call or stop by the county health department for a flu shot. Megan also shared steps a person can take to avoid the flu. The easiest and one of the most effective measures to prevent catching the flu, Megan says, is simple regular hand washing.

Megan is always happy to update our audience and to offer good health promoting suggestions. We appreciate her willingness to reach out to the public and help educate the audience on health questions and important matters.

FOCUS ON COMMUNITY public affairs programming is a series that we broadcast daily at random times to reach the maximum number of listeners to both of our radio stations.

Placed in the public file January 29, 2020.
