Holiday food safety is a matter to be considered at this time of the year.

Proper storage of ingredients, proper preparation of the meal, proper storage of leftovers if they are to be eaten later deserves further discussion.

Christina Carr from the local county extension office was interviewed by WLIV's Roger Ealey about how to properly and safely handle food during this holiday season.

She touched on everything from proper temperature, to making sure meats are properly cooked and properly stored prior to cooking.

This interview will be aired multiple times during the period of Thanksgiving and Christmas – broadcast on both AM & FM.

Placed in the public file 12-06-, 2018.
