With many less fortunate individuals and families in our listening area, we are pleased to join with the local postal service workers to help make their STAMP OUT HUNGER DAY a success.

Each year, we encourage listeners to donate non-perishable foods to be picked up by their mail delivery person on a designated Saturday (this year it's May 13) or taken to the lobby of the local post office.

Food is then made available to the needy.

This year, even the Cookeville, TN Post Office asked for our assistance (see attached fax).

We are happy to be part of this effort to help our community each year.
