WLIV AM 920 & WLIV FM 104.7

The looming deadline for new, first-time voters to participate in the election process is upon us. In our effort to inform and educate the public, WLIV AM & FM featured the local elections office director, Criag Story on our FOCUS ON COMMUNITY series.

Our interview with Mr. Story allowed the voters and potential voters to be aware of the October 9 deadline for registering to vote in the November, 2018 election.

He also encouraged voters to participate in "early voting" and said about 50% of our voter turnout is now done by early voters.

Mr, Story also reminded the public of the new location of the election commission office – which is where one would go to register to vote and also where one goes for early voting.

Mr. Story's interview on our FOCUS ON COMMUNITY feature was first heard 9/27 and will be repeated in different dayparts up to and including the last day to register to vote.

Making the public aware of this – we believe – is a service to our community of vital importance.

Placed in the public file September 27, 2018.
