The opportunity for a tuition-free college degree is something many in our community should take advantage of.

The Tennessee Reconnect Program makes it possible for adults to earn a free degree from a community or technical college.

Realizing the need for all of us to further our learning, WLIV AM and WLIV FM gave wide-ranging coverage to the availability of the program.

Our information included some of the requirements for a person to be able to enroll.

The program was being offered by Volunteer State Community College which has a campus located in Livingston.

Many of our community leaders have worked for a long time to make additional educational opportunities available and affordable to our local residents. Now with the issue of "how to pay for school" not a matter of concern, WLIV AM and WLIV FM were happy to respond to a request to make the community's newly-available program of TUITION FREE COLLEGE known to each and every person who might be wanting to further their education. Additional education and/or training opens the door to jobs and opportunities for those wishing to pursue learning.
