WLIV AM 920 & WLIV FM 104.7

Topic: Coronavirus

Guests: County Executive Ben Danner & Mayor Curtis Hayes

The Coronavirus scare is sweeping the nation and concerns here in our listening area are increasing. People are fearful of getting the virus that has proven fatal to several persons in several states.

Overton County Executive Ben Danner and Town of Livingston Mayor Curtis Hayes were on the airwaves of WLIV AM & WLIV FM to make listeners aware that the county and the city are actively taking measures to meet the Coronavirus threat head-on here. They are in contact with local institutions and organizations to educate the public and prepare the community in the event that Coronavirus becomes a local threat.

Mr. Danner stressed that currently there are NO KNOWN CASES of Coronavirus in Overton County. Mr. Hayes talked to listeners about how to minimize the chance of getting the virus.

WLIV AM and FM broadcast this information so our listeners can be reassured of no cases in our community and can be educated on how to protect themselves and their family.

Placed in the public file MARCH 10, 2020.
