

KVSC News Features

Monday through Friday at 12:30 p.m.

November, 2018

November 1, TH	With Good Reason: Science of Natural Gas: Across the nation, natural gas production has been ramping up. We break down the science of natural gas, pipelines, and how we make electricity with environmental engineer Andres Clarens.
November 2, F	SIDELINES – Live sports talk show featuring students at SCSU
November 5, M	With Good Reason: Our Resistance: we hear about students and their integration into public schools, and we hear about one of six people suing the Trump administration for rescinding DACA, the program for undocumented children who came to the U.S.
November 6, T	With Good Reason: On the Beat: Journalists and authors Monica Hesse and Beth Macy join Pulitzer Prize recipient Eric Eyre in a discussion of important issues impacting communities nationwide and the vital role of local journalism to an informed citizenry.
November 7, W	KGNU, Fire on the Mountain: A radio documentary looking at how the historic mining town of Gold Hill Colorado was saved on Labor Day 2010, during one of the most destructive wild fires in Colorado history.
November 8, TH	KVSC: Spencer Schacht, Spencer Schacht and his full conversations with transgender author Nate Cannon. Writing a book is no easy task but for Cannon writing a second book was his way of continuing what he started, but now as his true self.
November 9, F	SIDELINES – Live sports talk show featuring students at SCSU
November 12, M	The Moth, Veterans Day Special, In this hour, four stories of determination, hope and battling for both survival and respect. From bootcamp in Fort Bragg to base camp in Kirkuk, Iraq; from the front lines to the home front.
November 13, T	With Good Reason, Trump Brand, With the country deeply divided, brands whose livelihoods depend on appealing to the entire population companies can't afford to take sides and more businesses suffer. Branding expert Kelly O'Keefe shares the advice he's giving to leaders and boards of large corporations.
November 14, W	With Good Reason, Brands 2018, What happens when science is brought to the stage? Denise Gillman directs plays that explore science themes and has created a new online catalogue of science plays
November 15, TH	Long Haul Productions, Dear Birth Mother, After waiting in vain for Mr. Right - and after years of fertility treatments - Suzanne, a single, white woman in her forties, decided to adopt. She chose transracial adoption.
November 16, F	SIDELINES – Live sports talk show featuring students at SCSU
November 19, M	Yesterday, Today & Tomorrow, Debt, This is a program recorded in 2003. Even then, before all the current distress in personal finances, this was a very revealing discussion. We hear all the time that increasing debt is being passed on to the next generation

November 20, T	With Good Reason, What we make with our hands, During the holiday season, it feels like more and more consumers are skipping the department stores and opting for handcrafted goods instead.
November 21, W	With Good Reason, farm to table food, Chef and food activist Alice Waters argues that every child in America should be fed free, organic food at schools. Waters speaks candidly about her life before she opened Chez Panisse, her seminal farm-to-table restaurant in Berkeley, California.
November 22, TH	With Good Reason, giving Thanks, or miigwetch, In this special holiday episode, we're taking a look at the indigenous side of a Thanksgiving table.
November 23, F	Distillations, Black Friday, Are you a shopaholic? Do you know how your brain reacts when you start to buy things? and why for some this leads to a full-fledged addiction. Then producer Lindsay Patterson examines a chemical found in printer paper that some researchers are concerned might be hazardous to your health.
November 26, M	Culture Clique, History Comes Alive, Have you ever wondered who people were before they passed away? Folks in Winona learned just that during Winona's annual voices of the past cemetery walk.
November 27, T	Untold Stories of Central Minnesota, the Central Minnesota Arts Board listens to the arts with guest Leslie LeCuyer, Executive Director
November 28, W	With good Reason, Sudden Death, Sudden death in young people is rare, but early detection of inherited heart conditions is helping patients take better precautions.
November 29, TH	With Good Reason, spiritual but not, "Spiritual but not Religious" is an increasingly popular tagline for the millennial generation, Matthew Hedstrom looks at why "spirituality" is on the rise.
November 30, F	SIDELINES – Live sports talk show featuring students at SCSU