

KVSC News Features

Monday through Friday at 12:30 p.m.

October 2022

Oct 3, M	CounterStories: Minnesota’s, and possibly the country’s, first female Somali principal joins the crew to talk about her journey to becoming the principal of Gideon Pond school in Burnsville. Her aptness of spreading love and joy is at the core of how she wants to leads her school.
Oct 4, T	Native Lights: The Native Lights crew is talking with Fawn Sampson (Leech Lake Band of Ojibwe) who is a mom and partner, and an artist. Fawn shares her love of art: everything from charcoal drawings, beading, singing, and dancing, to screen printing, painting, stop animation, and theatre! Fawn shares a sweet story of how she met her husband Samsоче Sampson (well-known Hoop Dancer and featured guest on another episode of Native Lights) one night at a karaoke bar, and the two have been creating art together ever since.
Oct 5, W	CounterStories: Minnesota’s and possibly the country, first female Somali principal joins the crew to talk about her journey to becoming the principal of Gideon Pond school in Burnsville. Her aptness of spreading love and joy is at the core of how she wants to lead her school.
Oct 6, Th	St. cloud State University has its first named department thanks to a generous $1 million gift from Judy C. Pearson, who was celebrated on campus on September 22, 2022. The Judy C. Pearson Department of Communications Studies gift will help students, faculty and the community with international education grants and scholarships, academic conference grants and guest speakers.
Oct 7, F	SIDELINES SPORTS TALK SHOW LIVE
Oct 10, M	Native Lights Radio: Sarah Lancaster is many things. She is a public school teacher, a coach, a director of school plays, president of the local civic association, and as the only teacher of color in her rural school district, she’s an important connection between her students and the education system. Onamia is majority Indigenous students, and having grown up in the community, Lancaster made her journey back to make sure students were learning about and seeing themselves reflected in their education
Oct 11, T	Native Lights: Today Leah and Cole from Native Lights chat with Maggie Lorenz, an enrolled member of the Turtle Mountain Band of Ojibwe and descendant of the Spirit Lake Dakota Nation. She is the Director of the Wakan Tipi Center & Executive Director of the Lower Phalen Creek project, which is a Native-led environmental conservation nonprofit on the East Side of St. Paul.
Oct 12, W	Alexander Fern: In today’s feature, Alex Fern sits down with Dr. Kurtis Holman. Dr. Holman is a professor at St. Cloud State in the Management and Entrepreneurship department, and an avid e sports. Dr Holman will discuss the growth and flow of e sports in the world, and at St. Cloud State.

Oct 13, Th	USCM: Untold Story of Central Minnesota-- Arts & Cultural Heritage Producer Jeff Carmack talks with Trail Mix Art Exhibit Project Coordinator Deborah Vander Eyk. With a lively opening reception on November 11, 2022 at the Whit Gallery, the Trail Mix Art Exhibit is a juried exhibition with the theme of "Honor the Earth." Jurors include Karen Goulet, Peter Happel Christian, and Winona LaDuke.
Oct 14, F	SIDELINES SPORTS TALK LIVE
Oct 17, M	CounterStories: On CounterStories's final episode of the Education Series, the crew talks higher education. What does diversity and inclusion look like? We talk with Kha Yang, the inaugural Associate Vice President of Inclusive Excellence, at the University of St. Thomas about her experience and vision for the largest private university in Minnesota
Oct 18, T	Native Lights: Native Lights...we meet Jessica Engelking, a descendent of the White Earth Band of Ojibwe, who is a researcher with the Great Plains Action Society, and the author of a new book geared toward younger readers, called "Peggy Flanagan: Ogimaa Kwe, Lieutenant Governor." The book is part of the Minnesota Native American Lives series, a partnership between the Minnesota Humanities Center and the Minnesota Indian Affairs Council.
Oct 19, W	With Good Reason: The consecutive terrorist attack on the two mosques in Christchurch, New Zealand was streamed live on Facebook. Within 24 hours, an AI tool was able to delete millions of copies of the footage. Ariel Pinto is working to further develop AI tools that find and delete terrorism online.
Oct 20, Th	USCM: Untold Story of Central Minnesota, Arts & Cultural Heritage Producer Jeff Carmack visits with St. Cloud State University Archivist Tom Steman. Located on the top floor of the Miller Learning Resource Center, the University Archives hosts and provides access to an amazing depth of historic material. In today's conversation, Tom talks about newly digitized video of U.S. President Eisenhower crowning Homecoming Princess Joyce Pearson in 1952, the truth behind rumors of ghost stories around campus, the World War II Oral History Project, and many other historical tidbits as we celebrate National Archive Month in October.
Oct 21, F	SIDELINES SPORTS TALK LIVE
Oct 24, M	CounterStories: With the midterm election just weeks away, the Counter Stories crew talks about why voting is important and what may be causing young people to not vote. They also discuss the barriers making it harder to vote, lack of information, and redistricting.
Oct 25, T	Native Lights: Leah and Cole chat with Tamee Livermont MPH (Oglala Lakota Nation). Tamee is on her way to becoming an MD at the University of Minnesota Medical School in Duluth and is one of three recipients of the 2022

	Morris K. Udall and John S. McCain III Native American Graduate Fellowship in Tribal Policy. Before going to medical school, Tamee served as the Tribal Liaison at the Great Plains Tribal Leaders Health Board. Tamee brings her knowledge of Indigenous values and tribal policy to her work and studies. She wants to Indigenize the medical education system and defend treaty obligations while creating better healthcare systems that are centered around Indigenous values.
Oct 26, W	MN Native News COVID-19 Edition: Co-Hosts Leah Lemm (Mille Lacs Band of Ojibwe) and Antony Stately Ph.D. (Ojibwe/Oneida) explore how Indian Country in MN is responding and adapting to the current pandemic health crisis. On today's show, Leah and Antony are back to discuss how the pandemic with Kelly Miller the Executive Director of the Division of Indian work in St. Paul. Kelly Miller and the Division of Indian Work have been working tirelessly to continue meeting community needs and to help community members navigate the pandemic as a Covid-19 Community Coordinator Dr. Antony Stately is the CEO of the Native American Community Clinic.
Oct 27, Th	Pulse of the Planet: On today's feature from pulse of the planet, Sacred Ground and the Little Brother of War, "You have to listen to everything, including Mother Earth." A taste of the Natchez Language, the no-holds-barred game of Stickball, and what it feels like to be chosen. Plus - All Birds Great and Small, a visit with a Wildlife Rehabilitator
Oct 28, F	SIDELINES SPORTS TALK LIVE
Oct 31, M	Counter Stories: As election day nears, several things weigh heavy on the minds of voters. There is real fear about the safety of getting their ballots counted, voter intimidation, political parties attempting to staff polling locations, and more.