

Children ages 5-11 are eligible for Pfizer's low-dose COVID-19 vaccine

•

Heard on Morning Edition

The CDC is recommending the vaccine for this age group. Shots could start as soon as Thursday — although the campaign will take a few days to get into full swing.

Steve inskeep and Allison Aubrey discussed the news on Morning Edition today