

Meth TW

MEH

11/2 (Tues PM – 4:44)

(Self-contained for KUAR)

Addiction to methamphetamine continues growing in the U.S., especially rural communities where it is cheap, powerful and easily available. The University of Arkansas for Medical Sciences is working to develop a drug to counter the effects of meth.

News30

4:08

SOC

Researchers at its startup biopharmaceutical company interveXion Therapeutics have received a $13 million dollar grant from the National Institutes of Health to test the drug during phase 2 of a clinical trial.

Dr. Brooks Gentry is one of the grant's principal investigators and a professor in UAMS' College of Medicine...