

Scientists are learning more about the lingering symptoms of COVID-19

•

□ □ □ November 15, 2021 5:15 AM ET
Heard on Morning Edition

A Martínez

Twitter

Michaeleen Doucleff

some people with COVID-19 have symptoms that last for months - it's known as long COVID. Scientists now think long COVID is likely three different syndromes lumped into one.

Michaeleen Doucleff Joined A Martínez on ME this morning to talk about what doctors and scientists are learning about it. Michaeleen starts by explaining what long covid is